This is the season that everyone looks forward too. Full of long days out on the water and late nights by the campfire. Everyone likes to spend their summer differently. It is a time for students to relax and get some time away from school.

The summer of 2013 was a time filled with precious moments that will never be forgotten. Many students had new and exciting experiences that they had never experienced before. "My three best friends and I were jumping on a bouncy pillow," said Sophomore Kayla McQuinn. "We met so many people and plan on going back to Yogi Bear Campground next year".

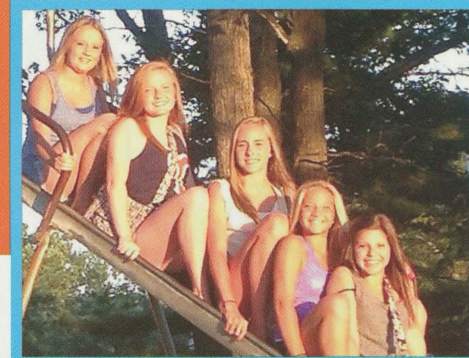

We all look forward to slurpee runs, tanning in the sun, and quality time with our friends, but it also gives many students time to spend with their family. "Summer reminds me of the week my family and I spent in a beach house in Oscoda, Michigan," said Junior Becky Jiggins. Now we take these memories, hold them with us forever, and wait for the next summer to come.

Clash for a Cure

This year was very different for me personally because I played my final one minute and 32 seconds. It was a very emotional game for me and the fact that I was playing for someone [Derrick Nash] who inspired me made it much better. It was a great thing to change the game from just Breast Cancer to now supporting ALL cancers, so now it allows us to help EVERYONE!

Four years ago, the Freeland community started an event that will forever impact those in need; a game held to raise money for all cancers: The Clash For a Cure game. In the previous three years, the community raised over $30,000 to donate to cancer research. This year, Varsity Head Coach Kevin Townsend gave the MidMichigan Medical Center a check for an impressive $10,000.

To raise money each year t-shirts are sold, games and activities are hosted by community members, and various donations are generously made to support the cause. Along with raising money, the PomPon and Football teams all represent an individual who has and/or had cancer. "It makes me feel good representing a cancer victim, it really shows that anyone can make a difference", said Junior Jordan Pollard.

Once the money is raised, it is typically donated for research, but instead of just breast cancer it now supports all types of cancers. "I really like this because now everyone with cancer can get involved and more people can get support", said Senior Sofia Gutierrez. In addition to this change, "this year the t-shirts were grey instead of just pink for breast cancer" said Junior Audrey Middlebrook.

Overall, the game was a huge success, like every year. More and more money is being raised to support the fight and the Freeland community continues to rally for those in need. The fight to end cancer is looking brighter every time the community comes together for those in need of help and support.

"Here Comes The Boom"

Freeland Varsity Football

Zachary Reimus '14

Tradition is something that every high school football team in America has. Freeland's tradition has been consistently making playoffs. The Varsity Football team has broken the school's record for making the playoffs six years in a row.

The Falcons started off the season opener on a positive note by defeating rival Clare with a score of 35-21. The men went on the road to Alma, home of the Panthers, and came out victorious with a score of 33-14. The Falcons then traveled to their cross town rival Swan Valley to battle for the right to call themselves the King of the Mountain. While it was a battle to the top, the team came up short to the Viking's losing 29-19.

The Falcons were not defeated as they proved that a loss would not affect them by beating Shepherd at home in the Clash for A Cure game scoring an impressive 34-6 victory over the Blue Jays. Freeland then took the road to play the Indians of Chesaning. After a tough 4 quarters the Falcons came out victorious with a score of 36-27. Finally on homecoming week, the Falcons came out with another "W" against Bullock Creek 36-6. The record was now at 5-1 and hopes were high for a win on Senior night. "I told the kids all year that we have a chance to do something special by winning our sixth game and getting into playoffs on Senior Night," said Head Coach Kevin Townsend.

Senior night was going to be the biggest game yet for the boys. With a win and a potential spot in the play-offs on the line, the team had one goal: beat a team they never had beat before, the Huskies. Once the game started it looked like the opponents might come out on top once again because the half-time score was 14-0. After half-time the Falcons came back from a 14-0 deficit to take the lead 20-14 with two minutes left. With 25 seconds left in the game, Senior Linebacker Ryan Richter stripped the ball and ran it back 99 yards for a touchdown securing the 26-14 victory over the Huskies and making play-offs. "That last play was pretty special. I honestly had no clue what was going on at, all I was thinking about was running, and after the play I just wanted to lay down," said Senior Ryan Richter. "That was a memorable way to beat Hemlock for the first time."

Sadly, the Falcons winning streak would come to an end with a loss to Ovid Elise 21-15. Even though the season ended on a loss, they still kept the winning tradition alive. "It was a fun ride through the weeks. My teammates are great and I couldn't ask for any better," said Senior Spencer Trimble. "It's sad that it had to end, but all things come to an end sometime. The season maybe over but the memories will last forever," said Senior Spencer Trimble.

"Get Ready For This"

Boys Varsity Soccer

Madison Franek '15

It's that time of year when the smell of the fresh cut grass rises, the sound of cleats pound the ground, and the boys line up to take the field. It is the start of soccer season. The Varsity Boys were ready to start the season after a long summer of practices and training.

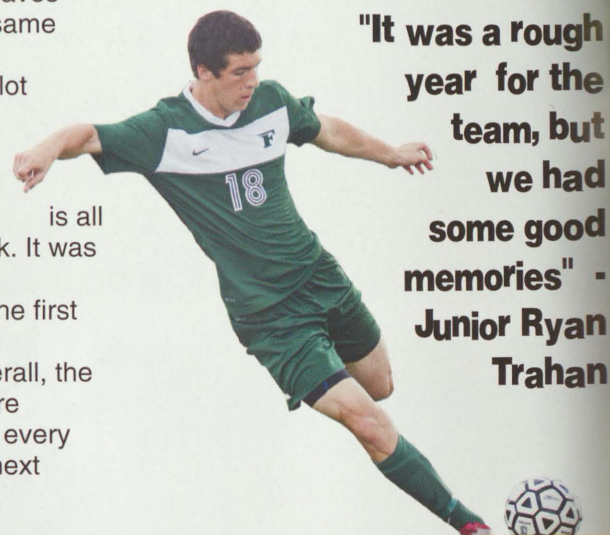

This year, the team gave their all and came out with a victory in the first game. The boys played to win against Valley Lutheran and that is exactly what they did. "Our biggest accomplishment this year would have to be beating Valley Lutheran," said Freshman Chad Martin. As the season went on, the team had some losses but leveled the playing field with Nouvel, with a score of 0-0. However, the boys second time against Valley Lutheran was not as victorious as the first. Despite the 21 saves from Senior Ryan Spaulding, the final score was of 0-1. With another loss the same week to Swan Valley, the boys were determined to bring their A-game against Hemlock, and that's exactly what they did with a final score of 3-0. "It means a lot knowing that it was worth putting in the extra effort and practice," said Junior Gage Armstrong.

With the win against Hemlock, the team traveled to Bullock Creek for the State District play. The boys were face to face with Swan Valley again. "Soccer is all about having experience and knowing what to do", said Junior Alex Greskowiak. It was a tough game, but the Falcons were in the lead in the first half with a goal from Freshman Brandon Svorinic. Swan Valley tied the game up before the end of the first half, and scored the winning goal ending Freeland's season.

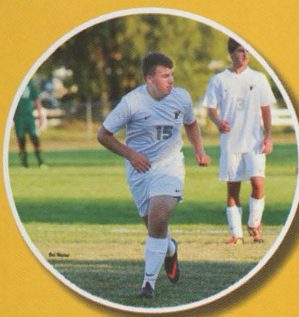

While loss is hard to take, the team was not too upset about the season. Overall, the Falcons had an "overall pretty decent season", said Junior Ryan Trahan and are looking forward to next season. The team has a good dynamic and knows that every season is a battle to the top. The team will be coming back with a vengeance next year.

Varsity Girls Volleyball

Katie Reams '14

The Girls' Varsity Volleyball team has done it again; another successful year has passed with many accomplishments made. Coming into the season, there were only four returning Seniors, meaning the team would be younger and less experienced. Overall, the record was 28-15-5. The team earned the title of Divisional Champs for the third year in a row and intend on continuing this tradition of excellence for years to come.

The team had tough competitions throughout the season. They defeated their biggest rival, Swan Valley in a five match battle. Freeland won the first two games with ease, however in the third game, the Vikings came out with a victory, winning the match by five points. The fourth game was close, but again Swan Valley came out on top. The fifth game is where it all counted, Freeland played with every ounce of energy they had left, and with perseverance and hard work they won by two points.

"My favorite moment was beating Swan Valley. It was a five set match that came down to the last few points," said Senior Madison Zimmerman. The team has overcome adversities and challenges throughout the season that never slowed them.

"The team's biggest accomplishment was proving the people who said we were going to be terrible this year wrong. We use that as motivation and work together," said Senior Sofia Gutierrez. Another highlight in the girls' season was defeating the highly anticipated rival, Hemlock. They won the first match, however in the second match Hemlock pulled ahead by ten points. The team rallied back and came back with the victory. "It was really cool to see our team come together during the Hemlock game. It shows that we can get through anything," said Junior Audrey Middlebrook.

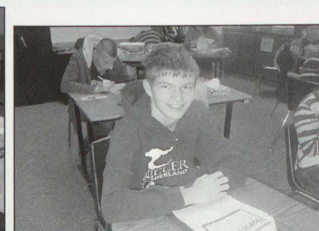

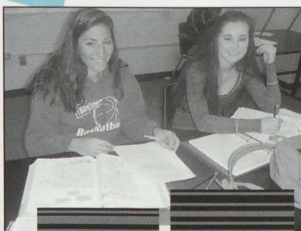

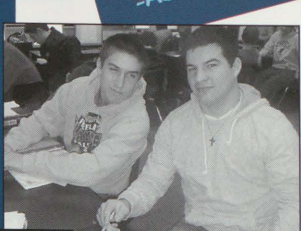

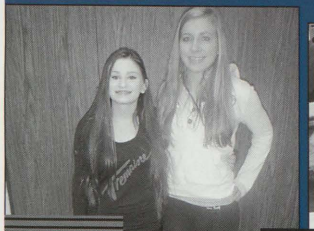

The team has overcome many obstacles throughout the season. Through it all, they worked together to build a successful team. This is no ordinary team; they have grown friendships that will last longer than just the season. The team will leave their mark and will have a lot to live up to for years to come.

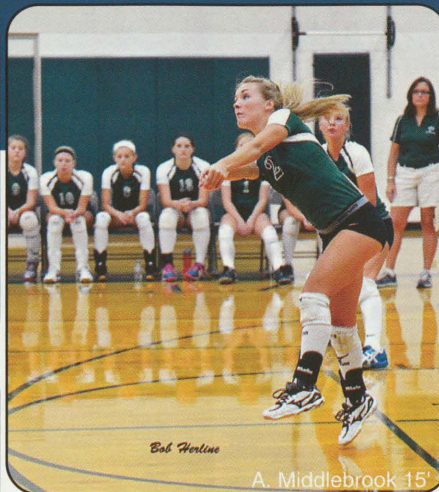

"Our whole team came together and worked towards the same goals which made us determined to succeed. As a team, we formed everlasting bonds with one another which increased our chemistry and our ability to succeed."

The Freeland Cross Country team either runs hard or goes home. Cross country is not only a physical sport, but a mental one as well. After only halfway into the race, the legs are burning and the heart is racing, but what keeps one going is the mindset of crossing the finish line. The Varsity Boys and Girls Cross Country teams stayed tough and finished strong every meet this season.

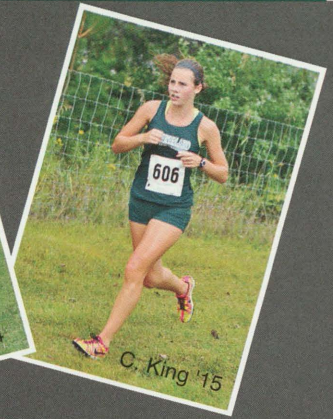

The Girls' Cross Country team may not be the biggest in the conference, but they continued to improve each meet. One of the best races for the girls took place in Harbor Beach at the Wagener Park invite. Freshman Jenna Gregory took the fastest time for the team at 19:47. After running mile after mile in practice, the team was rewarded with a 2nd place finish at Regionals and made it to States. "Our team did great this year, we all worked so hard this season and pushed ourselves at practice," said Junior Sammi DuLong. Overall, the girls had a fantastic season and hope to do just as well next year.

The Boys' Cross Country team also had another stellar season. After losing a group of Seniors from last year the team decreased in size, but gained some fresh faces. The season started out slow, but after the boys stepped up to the plate the team started to improve and perform as expected. Overall, they took 3rd at Regionals with Junior Alex Stowell placing 1st overall with a time of 16:11. "When we made it to states at regionals, we weren't expected to do great this year, so it was awesome," said Junior Anthony Cook. The team had an outstanding season after a lot of hard work and effort.

Most sports look at running as a punishment, while in cross country it is a passion. Both teams showed great strength and determination. "There were ups and downs, injuries and illness, and several other obstacles along the way, but we pushed through and gave it our all," said Coach Robinson. The seasons turned out well and the athletes are already preparing for next season.

After losing two seniors and gaining six freshmen, the bar was set high for the season. Being more driven and determined on doing better during the overall season was accomplished when 5 out of 6 girls earned all conference and the team made it to states. The newbies on the team made an impressive first showing.

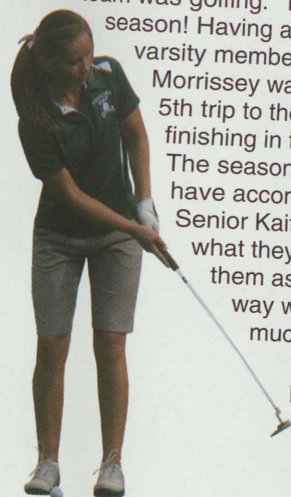

Arguing competitive season, States was the team's favorite part, especially for Junior Victoria Argyle, "My favorite was definitely states, the weather was great and I played really well." Getting a chance to show off what they had worked all season for was something they look forward to every year. The excitement for States was high because of their new accomplishment of going 3 years in a row. The pressure was now placing in the top 5.

However, the pressure did not impact Junior Lauren Guentert's performance during the week where it counted the most. Guentert was confident going into states, as she managed a career lowest score both days of States. Working towards that accomplishment was what she had worked for all season.

Senior Janna Brown was beyond proud of her team's season. "Our team's biggest accomplishment this season was qualifying for states and winning our 6th straight Tri-Valley Conference championship." The pressure will be on next season to keep up that streak of being TVC champs.

Argyle looks at her team differently than most athletes. "We all love each other like a family; we are much more than just a team." As the team bonded throughout the season, it made achieving their goals more exciting for not only single athletes, but for the team as a whole.

During the season Coach Mike Ritt was impressed with the way his team was golfing. "The team did fantastic in the 2013 season! Having an undefeated season, placing 5 of the 6 varsity members earning all-conference honors (Kaitie Morrissey was #1 in the Tri-Valley Conference) and a 5th trip to the state finals in the last 6 years and finishing in the top 10 in the state was incredible." The season ended well, even though they may not have accomplished everything they wanted to. Senior Kaitilyn Morrissey assured the team that what they did satisfied her and should satisfy them as well. "Even though we didn't end the way we wanted to, we accomplished so much this season and we have a lot to be proud of."

August; a time for swimming, sun tanning, friends, and of course marching band. Starting in the summer to prepare for the upcoming marching season, the band prepares songs and learns sets. Band members also got to dress up for theme days that included zombie apocalypse, super hero day, and movie day.

On August 29, the band marched onto the field for the first pre-game fight song and National Anthem of the year. Following was the half time show consisting of a mixture of spy movie themes from the Austin Power's theme "Soul Bossa Nova" to "Mission Impossible". For homecoming the band switched it up, playing "Your Song" by Elton John as the court was presented. For the following performance, the band highlighted Seniors on Senior night by having the band preform a half time show organized by the Seniors. Seniors chose favorites from their Freshman year like "Gladiator" and "Pirates of the Caribbean". "I enjoyed Gladiator," said Senior Nathan Yax. "The bass drum part is intense and the whole song builds until it punches you in the face."

Even though the marching season is over, the band isn't finished and has begun switching gears to concert band, festival, and solo and ensemble. Junior Tori Argyle is already excited for future performances. "I am looking forward to the Christmas concert!"

FRIDAY: Green and White Day

Jordan Pollard '15'

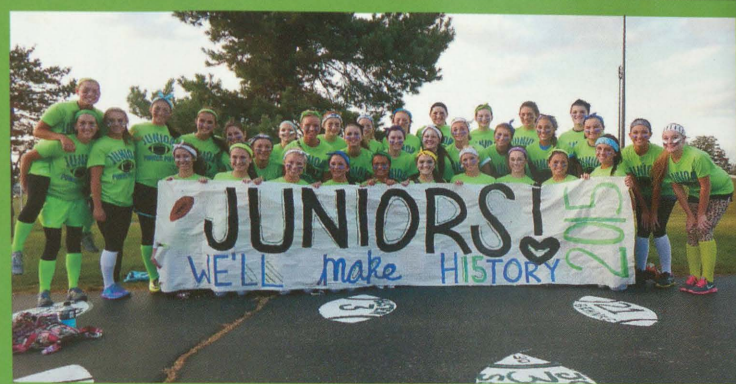

Students don't normally dress up as Disney characters, teachers, and in silly patterns. However, during the week of September 30th this would not be an unusual sight. The week of homecoming was kicked off by the annual spirit week held at Freeland High School. Students participate in crazy dress up days the entire week. It all started off with a fun and easy day; Pattern Day. However, as the week went on the days got a little more challenging, but all students were ready to show spirit. Class Color day was Tuesday, October 1st and the rivalry between classes was on this day. Wednesday was a Disney theme and halls were filled with Minnie Mouse's, Belles, and pirates.

The following day was very surprising for everyone in the building as students dressed as teachers, teachers looked like students. Friday was the most spirited and unifying for the school; the annual green and white day. While it was a battle of the spirit all week, the Seniors triumphed over all the others. The spirit point standings for the end of the week are as follows; Seniors earned 1st place with 28 points, followed by the Sophomores with 25 points, the Freshmen finished in 3rd with 21 points, the Juniors ended with 12 points.

"Girls Just Wanna Have Fun"

Junior and Senior Powderpuff

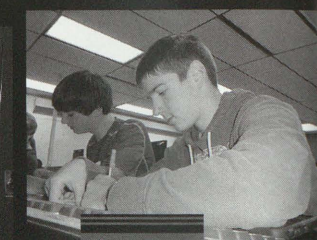

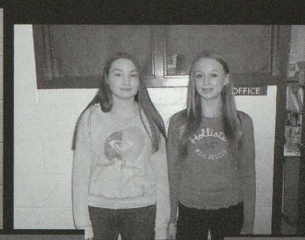

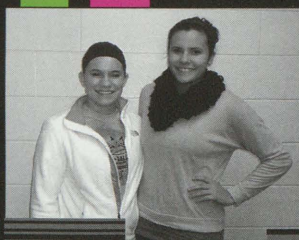

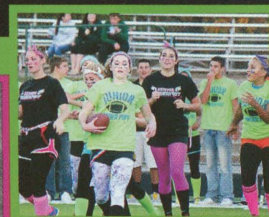

Kyle Guster '14

Homecoming week is one week where the entire school looks forward to five days of celebration and school spirit. The Varsity Football Team has a highly anticipated game Friday night and student councils/classes competing to create the best floats and hallways. While all of the students look forward to theme days and the dance, however, the girls look forward to one night more than the rest: the night of the Powderpuff game.

The Juniors and Seniors begin their quest for excellence two weeks prior to the game. Practices are difficult and take time and dedication. The difficulty does not come from the rigorous training, but it is from not knowing positions or not remembering the plays. The girls felt that the practices were fun and full of excitement because it is an event that only happens once time a year. "We actually did a lot of work at practice and got a lot done, at the same time having fun," said Senior Kennedy Kasper.

During the game, it was a battle from start to finish. The Seniors came out on top winning 17 to 12. Senior touchdowns came from Senior Ashley Youngstrom and Senior Janna Brown. The Seniors also scored on a safety from their defensive captain Sofia Gutierrez. Both of the Junior touchdowns came from Junior Taryn Taugher.

Both of the teams worked hard, but the Juniors just fell short. The Junior class is already looking forward to continuing this tradition next year. "Look out sophomores," said Junior captain Becky Bell.

This year's Homecoming started off with a blast from the past. Each class chose their favorite Disney movie from their childhood as their theme. Seniors picked the classic Cinderella, Juniors selected the faithful Finding Nemo, Sophomores went with the plundering Pirates of the Caribbean, and last but not least, were the Freshman with the kid-friendly Toy Story.

"The theme was really original, and it was neat that it was something that everyone could relate to," said Junior Taylor Herring.

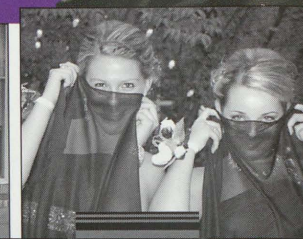

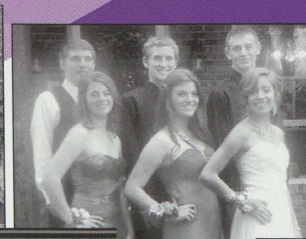

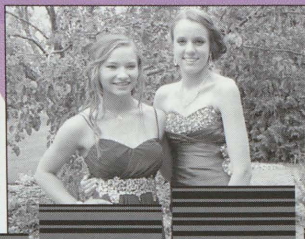

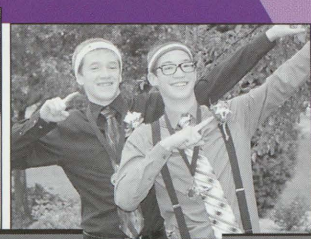

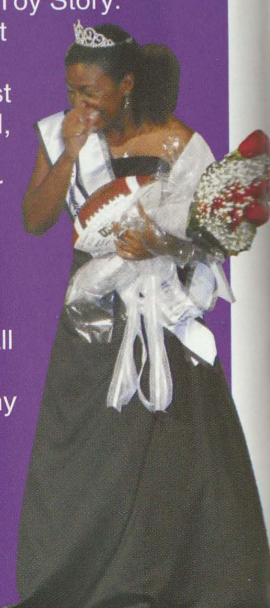

With Homecoming nearing, school spirit picked up. With some of the best hallway decorations ever produced by the students of Freeland High School, it was a tough battle for who would win. Throughout the week there was a large amount of participation for each spirit day, whether it was pattern day or dress-like-your-favorite-teacher day.

"I really like dress-like-your-favorite-teacher day because you could tell exactly who everyone was. I especially liked [Senior] Noah Seeburger's outfit because he looked exactly like Mr. Peterson," said Senior Sofia Gutierrez.

At halftime, all eyes were turned and focused on the field as the 2013 Homecoming Court took the field. All were in anticipation as the Senior Court members were presented with their boxes. One would contain a glass slipper and that Senior would be crowned Queen. The glass slipper was presented to Christian Murphy as she was crowned the 2013 Homecoming Queen.

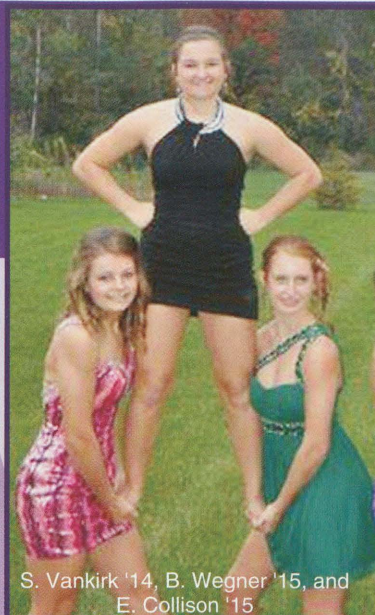

"I was so overwhelmed and shocked. No words can truly explain the way I felt on that magical night," said Senior Christian Murphy.

As the night neared midnight, everyone knew that their magic Disney-filled night was coming to a close. Although no one lost their shoes or had their cars turned into pumpkins, the night was truly one fit for a princess. From the decorations to the music, this was truly a night to remember.

Kennedi Kasper '14

Ending the season with an 8-1 record, Freeland's Junior Varsity Football team most definitely concluded the year of football with a bang. These boys fought hard through tough games with the strength of teamwork. It was a season to remember.

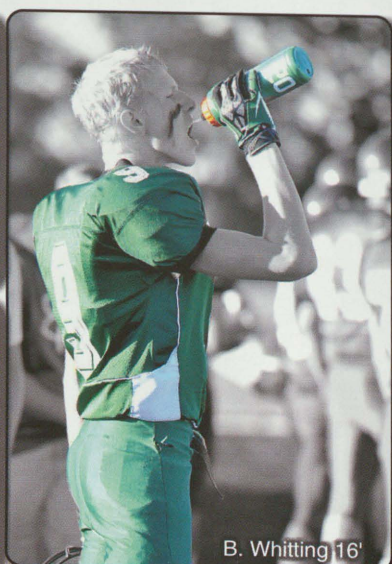

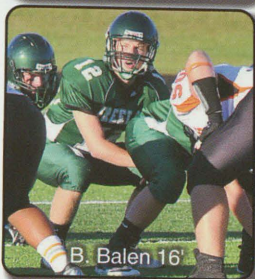

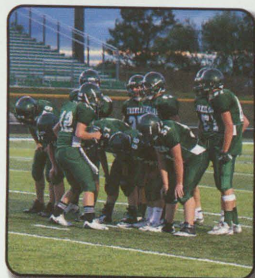

"As a team we worked hard together through practices and through games to succeed," said Sophomore Cameron Kasper. While the season was filled with strenuous practices and games, there were several highlights.

"One of the major highlights of this year was when we defeated Swan Valley. They are always one of our biggest rivals and it was a challenging game and a major victory," said Sophomore Chipper Kushner. The boys continued to overthrow every team game after game. As the season was coming to a close, the team faced their highly anticipated opponent; Nouvel.

"We went in strong and played our hardest, but it just did not seem to be good enough. We will get them next year," said Sophomore Gage Wolinski. They competed against every team with power and endurance. Now the only thing they can look forward to is starting a whole new experience on the Varsity team next year.

Starting off with their first year of high school football was a success for this group of Freshman boys. The team finished with an astonishing 8-1 record. There are a lot of words that could describe the 2013 season, but one comes to mind; successful.

"Brotherhood, crazy, and humorous." These are the three words that come into Freshman Drew Bakos' head when he thinks of his team and this season football. There were many highlights throughout the 2013 season, including the games against Bay City Western and Swan Valley. The team shut out Bay City Western with an astounding score of 50-0. It was a challenging game against Freeland's number one opponent; Swan Valley. The boys came through with a victory and a score of 38-12.

"Defensively, we scored on our first possession in each game and averaged 43 points per game. This team was very talented and will do very well in their future years together," said Head Coach John Nixon.

These boys are not only a team, but they are a family. "We played hard throughout the season and had to work around injuries and some key players. We did this all together as a team," said Freshman Max Kubiak. Ending the season playing their last game with the JV team prepares them for the upcoming years.

These green and white ladies were ready to make an impact this season. With their non-stop practices, these girls had a mindset to take the division by storm. With a team of eight dedicated riders, these girls were ready to succeed. After getting the number one spot at round one of Districts, these lady Falcons knew that their hard work over the summer had finally paid off.

"My favorite meet had to have been round one of districts. I almost got first in my class, and it was just a great meet all around," said Sophomore Bree Dittenber. She also held the highest score on the team with an outstanding 162 points.

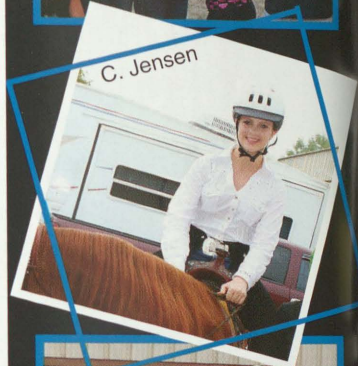

Their season continued with a first place ranking at round two of Districts, and then the lady Falcons captured the district champion title. The girls then diligently worked for the meet ahead, Regional finals. They all felt the pressure of this meet because of all of the intense competition, but later to find out the competition they had all worried about, barley existed. With the girls obtaining the fourth place spot, they could not have been happier.

"Our season went great and although we would have liked to place higher, we still did so well; only being three points away from third place," said Senior and four year team member Sabrina VanKirk.

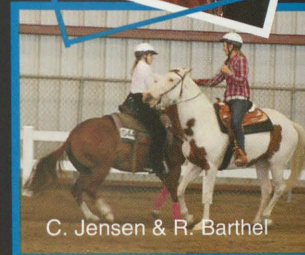

This year's team rocked the ring, and really made an impact. The girls proved that hard work does pay off, and results in a stellar season. These lady falcons made their team into a family and brought home the district trophy.

With the season starting in high hopes for success, the Junior Varsity Boys were in the zone to dominate. Beginning the season with an 8-0 win, the team was confident and ready to continue the tradition of excellence. The Falcon boys were ready for what was to come in the season ahead.

This year, the team was very young, but to many that was not a setback. "I thought we worked very hard as a team for having so many young players," said Sophomore Captain Cameron Knochel.

Even though the second and third game of the season brought them losses, falling 0-3 to Bay City Western, 1-5 and to Valley Lutheran, the Falcons were determined to turn the season around. The team faced Alma in a head to head game and came out on top with a score of 3-2.

"The highlight of my season was coming back to beat Alma, after that we turned around and started winning our games," Said Sophomore Captain Collin Droste.

The boys then faced off a Class A team, the Heritage Hawks. While it was a battle to the top, the team fell short with the 0-1 loss.

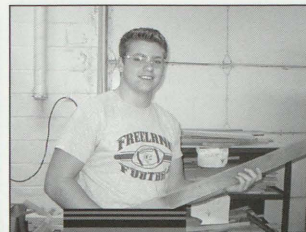

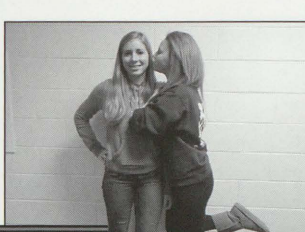

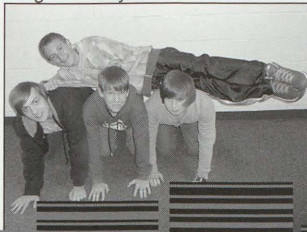

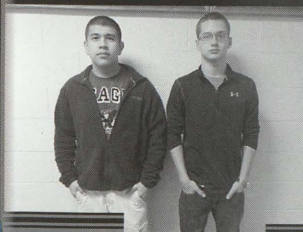

"We played an amazing game and I was very pleased how we handled ourselves against a Class A school," said Head Coach Justin Foley. "We just have to work on some minor things and put forth a better effort and I believe we can beat any team in the near future."

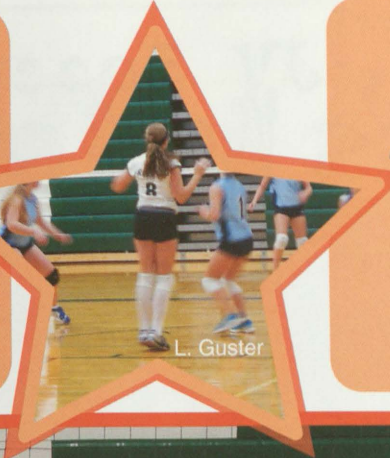

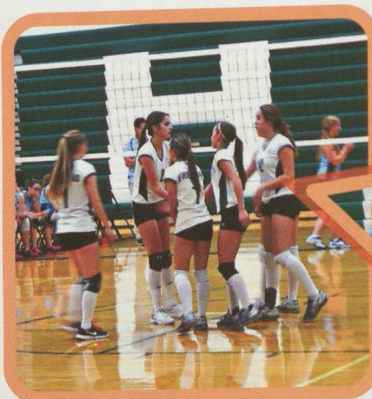

With games nearing the end of the season, the Falcons earned two ties with Gladwin and Mt. Pleasant with ending scores being 1-1 for both games. The next game on the schedule was Bay City Western, a team they had already fallen to early in the season. This time, however, the Junior Varsity team came out with the win 2-1. They continued their winning streak with a solid win against Clare 7-0.

Excitement was in the air and high expectations were on the players minds. The team went to play Gaylord in the last game of the season. Although the outcome was not what they wanted nor expected, the team's spirit was not shaken by the 2-1 loss.

Finishing on a winning record of 4-3-3, the boys still believe the season was a success. With hard work, dedication, unity, and perseverance the team was actually better than ever. Win or lose, the boys did not fall short and are preparing for next year.

This year's Freshman Volleyball team set out for a great season. With it being every members first high school sport, the team was determined to stick together. Starting a new season with new teammates and a new coach can be difficult for any team, but the lady Falcons were determined to have a successful season, despite a rocky start.

"We went through some struggles, but overall we achieved our goals," said Freshman Lindsay Guster. With the season drawing closer to an end the team developed a strong bond with one other. In fact, playing together did not just create a bond between them but, "has made [us] better for years to come," said by Freshman Mikayla Jesse.

Their season highlights included their home game vs. Shepard and the game vs. John Glenn. The team played well overall in both games. The girls traveled to Gladwin during the season for a tournament and finished second place overall. The team is looking forward to next year's season already. They are excited to improve and develop the skills necessary for their level as a team.

"The small team of eight was very fun and I thought we saw a lot of improvement."

Allison Young '15

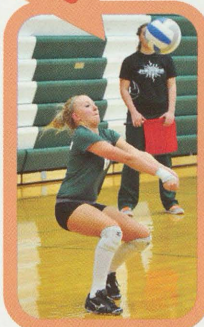

The Junior Varsity Volleyball team aimed for a great season this year. Although the team this year was smaller, the team was determined to have a great season. The girls started the season with playing Bay City Western. This was a great start for their season.

The team was given many opportunities to play in tournaments this year. It gave the team a chance to bond, improve, and had a big effect on the rest of their season. "[This season] made me an all-around better player and taught me to be a better captain," said Sophomore Captain Emily Reams. They were pushed hard by each other and their coach and ended the season on a positive note.

As for highlighted games this season, the Swan Valley game was most intense. The Vikings are the team's biggest rival. With the game being home this year there was more support coming from the Falcons. In the end, the girls had a great season this year and "it was a very fun experience," said Freshman Claire Duley. They went through the season making memories.

Junior Mitchell Piper has been dirt biking for two years. His favorite place to ride is Silver Lake. His favorite part is, "The thrill and adrenaline of never knowing when you will crash next."

Colleen Moon '17

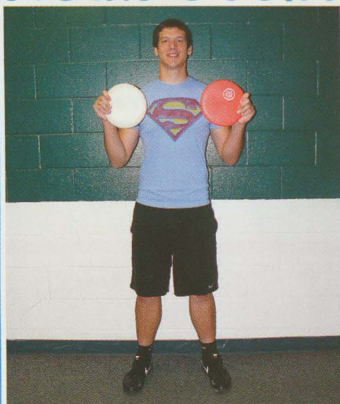

Freshman Colleen Moon has been dancing for eleven years. She enjoys it because it's the only place she feels at home. Some of her major accomplishments was going to be dancing with Broadway until she got hurt and making it onto two college teams. The most unique type of dancing she does is point and that's why it's her favorite.

Nathan Yax '14

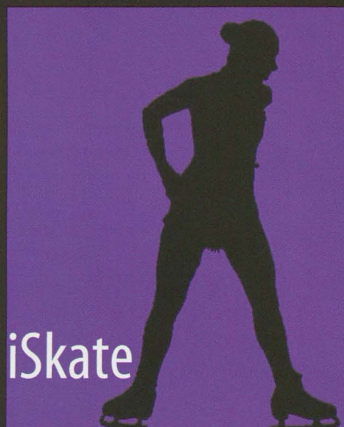

Senior Nathan Yax has been playing the guitar for six years. The two types of guitars he plays is the acoustic and the electric guitar. His favorite one is the acoustic because he can always pick it up and play it. Nathan's talent has brought him to play in two bands but he prefers to play by himself.

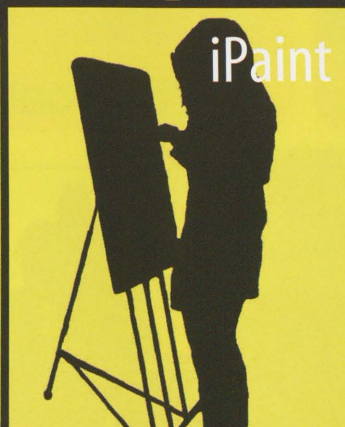

Noah Seeburger '14

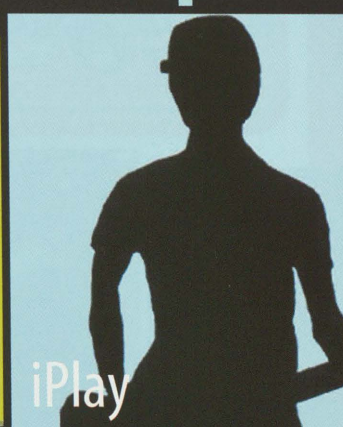

Senior Noah Seeburger began disc golfing or "frolfing" six years ago. He became interested in frolfing because he loves to be outside. In addition, he has played in four tournaments, and won two. "It's really fun once you get good at it."

Mackenzie Gilbert '16

Sophomore Mackenzie Gilbert became interested in painting by Vincent Van Gogh. She just started painting this year. One of the things that taught her how to paint was a class she took. Sceneries are her favorite thing to paint.

Tatyana Spaulding '17

Freshman Tatyana Spaulding began writing ever since she can remember. She gets her ideas from daydreaming. "When I read I get inspired by my own adventures." Reading inspires her to write. She wrote a book called The Phantoms Daughter. This long book has 444 pages and 62 chapters plus a prologue and an epilogue. She plans on writing more books in the future.

Ben Balen '16

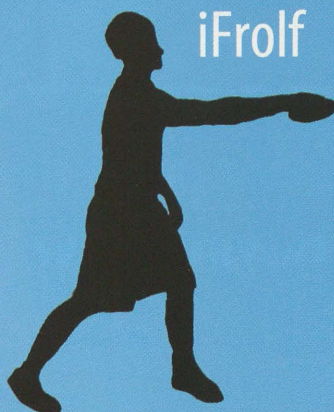

Sophomore Ben Balen has been skiing for two and a half years. Out of the many places he's been, his favorite place to go is Big Sky, Montana. Some of the obstacles he has faced are running into a tree when he was younger and doing steep runs. Even though he has had his obstacles, he really enjoys skiing.

Freeland High School is always looking for a way to give back to the community. From Clash for a Cure game in the fall to Hoops for Diabetes game in the winter, Freeland is always supportive of fighting for a cause. This year the annual Grey Game was a huge success, raising awareness and money to diabetes research.

To promote the game, the team sold t-shirts, held a basketball camp, and spread the word throughout the community. "My favorite part of the Grey Game is seeing the whole community coming together for a great cause," said Junior Jalyn Prout. When game day finally came excitement filled the air. It was the Freeland Falcons against the Hemlock Huskies. Even though winning might not be the most important aspect of the game, "we make sure it is a good game so more people will come out and support the cause. We practice hard to put on a good show," said Senior Sofia Gutierrez. Something that makes the Grey Game unique is that there are other activities to participate in; there were prizes to win and face painting in the cafeteria. During half-time, the Varsity Cheer team performed their well-known round 3 for fans. "It was awesome to be included in the game," said Junior Emily Baase. "It shows that we all can do something to help support the cause." After the cheer routine the crowd was entertained by competitors of the Canine Disc Competition.

The night's event totaled an amount of over $5000 and that was donated to Covenant Kids. It was a night Coach Zolinski was very proud of. "The team was extremely involved with promotion of the event. They gained knowledge of the disease by attending an appointment with Olivia, and also conducted a youth camp on the Saturday prior to the event," said Coach Zolinski. "The team was so involved in decorating the setup for the event." The second annual Grey Game was a success, and Freeland High School made a difference in the lives of many.

The Girls Varsity Basketball had a season to remember. With a regular season record of 15-6 and finishing third in the Tri-Valley Conference, they wrapped up with an overall winning season. The team faced many challenging competitors and improved from last year. Even in the post-season the Lady Falcons impressed and dominated the competition.

While the girls had many memorable moments this season, playing Bullock Creek was one of the team's favorite games. "With six seconds left in the game I hit a jumper at the buzzer to take us to overtime," said Junior Hannah Foy. The Lancers were one of the girl's biggest rivals this season. Although they lost, it was one of the best games of the season.

Bullock Creek however, was not the only close game of the season. The girls also faced Goodrich on their home court on December 6th. The game finished with a tight score of 40-46. "Even though we lost we put our hearts into the game and we showed our season was going to be a great one," said Senior Sofia Gutierrez. The girls fought hard to the very end of the game. Goodrich was ranked number two in the state and tough competition for any team.

The last home game was against Ovid- Elsie for senior night. For seniors Breanne Short, Sofia Gutierrez, and Madison Zimmerman, it was the last time playing on their home court. "I hit the first shot of the game which was a three," said Senior Madison Zimmerman. That night, twelve of the thirteen girls scored and had over twenty assist total. The final score ended 68-22 with another win for the Falcons.

The ladies started districts off strong at Chesaning facing the Bridgeport Bearcats. The girls dominated in the first, third, and fourth quarters of the game, eventually winning 68-20 advancing to the second round of districts against Swan Valley. After winning the second round of districts, the girls moved onto the final round against Carrollton winning 57-40 earning the title district champions. The girls then advanced to regionals beating Alma in the first round 59-42. The team went on to play their biggest rivals, Bullock Creek for the final round of regionals. Despite the loss, the game ended with a close score of 59-45. "We battled and competed as hard as we could and I'm proud of my team," said Head Coach Tom Zolinski.

The Varsity Girls Basketball team finished the season with a strong record. With all the great memories made and continued progress, this season is one for the books. As spring sports begin, many of these players will take advantage of the off-season to improve their game.

Varsity Boys Basketball

Kennedi Kasper '14

Ending their season strong, the Varsity Boys' Basketball team concluded the season with a solid record of 10-10. The start of the season was rough, but the team pulled it together to win several clutch games.

"We started off a little rocky, but a lot of guys stepped up this year and we all pulled it together as a team," said Junior Jake Jankoska.

The team did in fact pull it together to have another great season. The boys practiced everyday and improved immensely. They demonstrated that they are a team who will face adversity head on.

"My goal this year was to help my team out as much as possible and get as many wins as we could," said Junior Tucker LyVere.

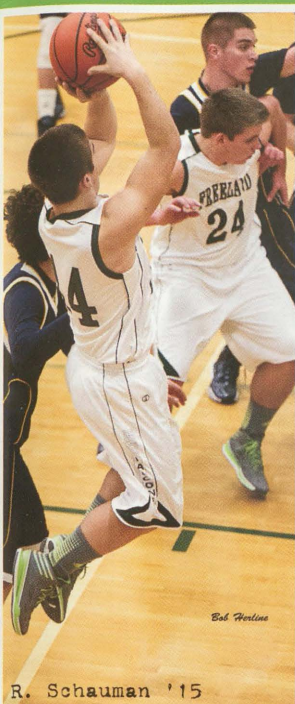

There were quite a bit of nail-biting games towards the middle and end of the season. The Freeland vs. Chesaning game was a closely officiated game, with a total of 40 fouls called. The boys came through with an impressive score of 52-38. One of the most intense games of the season was against Bullock Creek, one of Freeland's biggest rivals. It was a close game throughout all four quarters until the buzzer went off with a tie game. The varsity team fought until the end, and they defeated Bullock Creek in overtime with a score of 61-56.

"It was a great feeling beating Bullock Creek in overtime. It was a very intense game and we were all thrilled to leave with a victory," said Junior Anthony Cook.

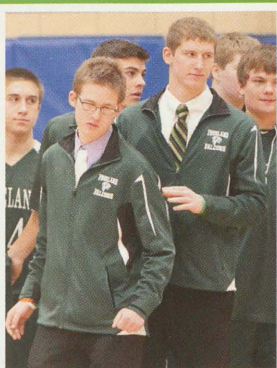

Earning a few more victories against Shepherd and Birch Run, the team showed that hard work really pays off. A key component to a successful year of basketball is teamwork and they have got it. Hopefully their strength and determination will be carried throughout the seasons ahead.

To have a chance to win team distracts with a depleted line up is the testament to how hard the boys worked, our seniors and our team philosophy, Head Coach Mike Ritt.

Zachary Reimus '14

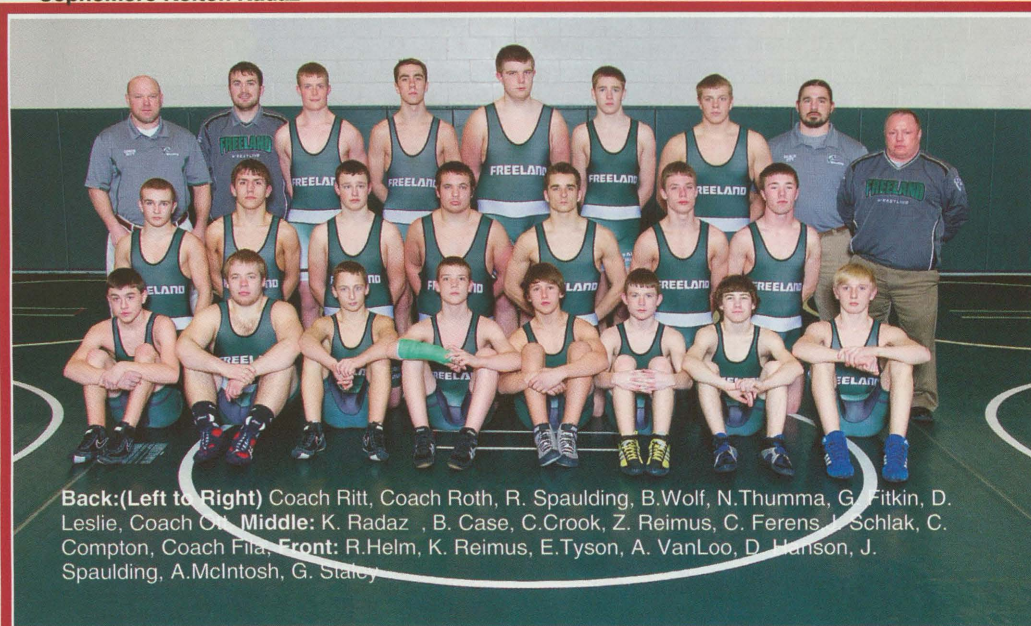

If one word were used to describe the Freeland Varsity Wrestling team, it would be resilience. No matter what adversities the team faced, they manage to always rise to the top. After a long season of duals, invitational, practices, and cutting weight, the boys completed another successful season.

The team started their season at the Sanford Meridian Tournament where they placed second, respectively behind Pine River high school with a final score of 48-22. The next highly anticipated tournament was the Hemlock Invitational. The boys wrestled with heart and came home with three wrestlers champions; Seniors Josh Schlak won at 135, Charlie Ferens at 140, and Sophomore Kolton Radaz at 125. The team ended up winning the Hemlock Invitational earning the title of back-to-back team champions. "We rocked at this tournament," said Freshmen Jason Spaulding. "I felt we did well as a team."

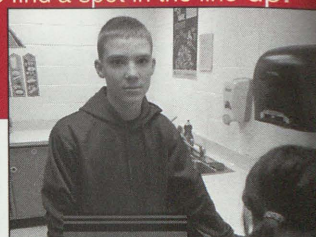

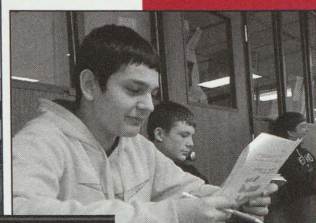

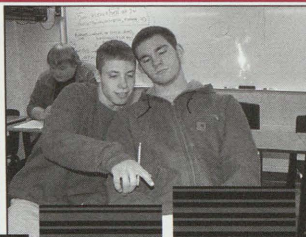

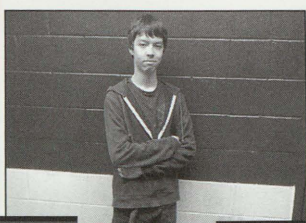

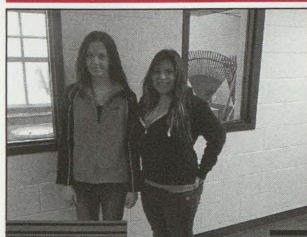

Midway way through the season, Freeland held its 50th annual wrestling tournament, which is now the longest running competition in Michigan. The boys rose to the occasion and had several key players perform well. Schlak and Radaz each placed second at this tournament. Ferens placed 3rd respectively at 140, taking fourth place was Sophomore Aiden Van Loo and J. Spaulding. Other medalist included Senior Keegan Reimus, Senior Dustin Leslie, Senior Zachary Reimus all earning 5th place. Freshmen Eric Tyson took 6th place. Overall, the team finished third out of eighteen teams. "It was a great tournament to be a part of and to wrestle well at," said Ferens.

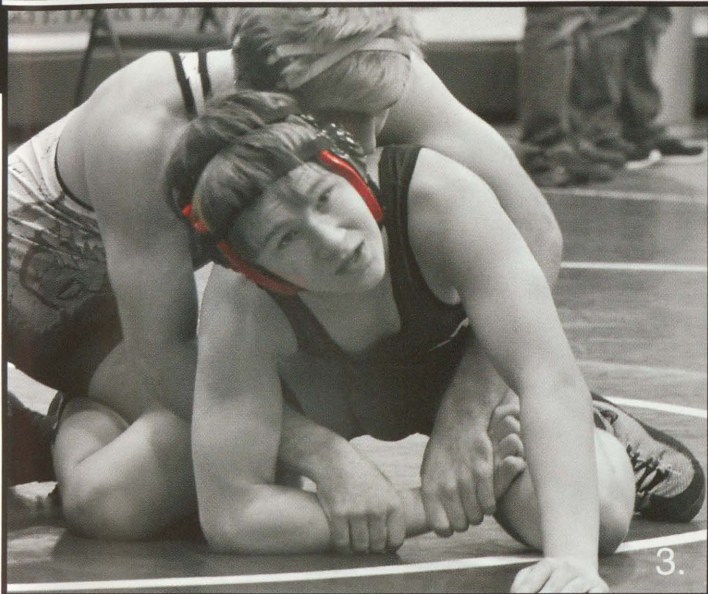

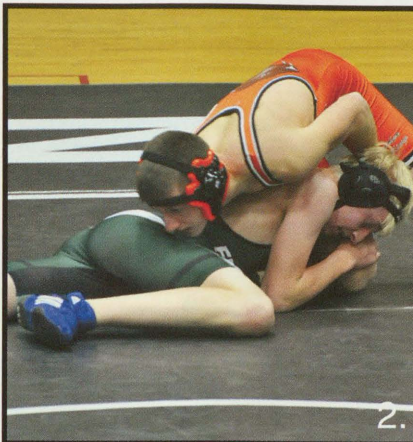

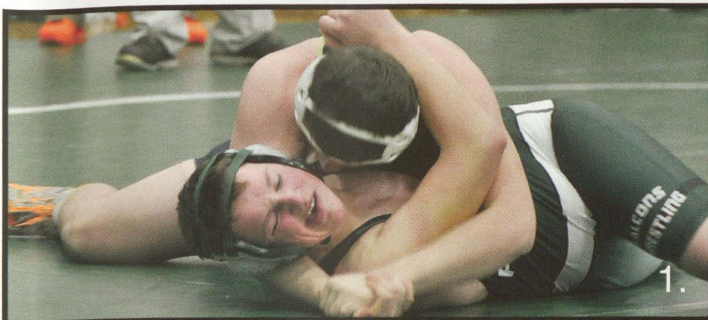

The 13-14 wrestling season ended with a second place finish in the conference with a 6-1 record and 22-7 overall. Many of the individual and team goals were met in the course of the last five months. "We had a good season considering the injuries that mounted up. With the senior leadership and the forces experience of the young freshman the team finished strong," said Head coach Mike Ritt. "To have a chance to win team distracts with a depleted line up is the testament to how hard the boys worked, our seniors and our team philosophy. We thought that we might have a couple more individuals qualifying for the individual's finals, but we excited for the three who have to win the state title."

The wrestling team is looking towards next season to continuing the improvements from this year. The returning wrestlers will mature in the off season and will continue to improve on the mat. The new freshman coming in will have to work to find a spot in the line-up.

Triple Threat!

Back: Melanie Padgett (Freeland) and Kayli Redburn (Freeland)

Front: Megan Stein (Swan Valley)

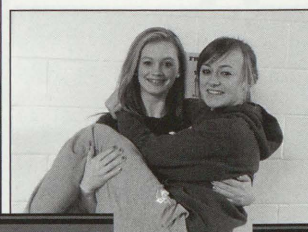

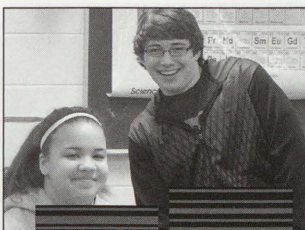

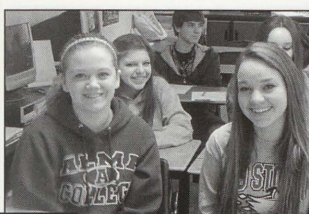

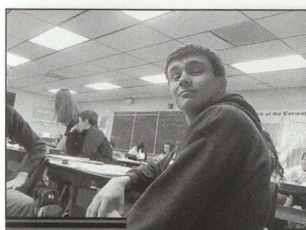

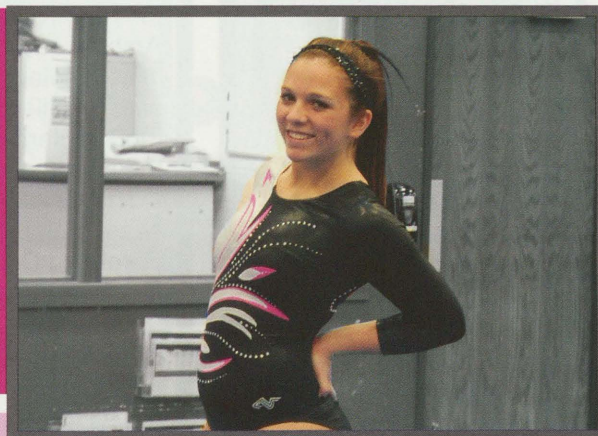

Winning has always been something familiar to the Freeland-Swan Valley Varsity Gymnastics team. With a successful 2012-2013 season, the girls were hoping to repeat that success. The girls faced adversity head on, and even with only three girls on the team they had a great season.

The team lost a number of girls due to graduation and injuries. They were left with only three competitors. This tremendous trio consisted of Senior Kayli Redburn, Junior Melanie Padgett, and Swan Valley Junior Megan Stein. The team was forced to take zeros in many events due to a lack of gymnasts, but the girls were still able to place at their meets with impressive scores. The girls were able to impress the judges on vault with scores of an 8.05 by Padgett, an 8.525 by Redburn, and an 8.475 by Stein at the Haslet invitational and even placed 7th.

"To be honest, vault is my least favorite event, but I was able score 8.5's consistently throughout the year", said Padgett.

The girls then traveled to Vassar in a tri-meet. All three gymnasts competed in only two events due to the fact they had already qualified in the others. They competed on the bars and beam. Padgett scored a 7.45 on bars and an 8.6 on the beam. Redburn followed with impressive scores as well with a 7.6 on bars and an 8.776 on beam. Stein had the highest scored a 7.34 on bars and scored an 8.6 on the beam.

Each girl was able to qualify for regionals in Mason that next Saturday. The season ended at regionals as they were not able to qualify for states. "I feel like the season went pretty well under the circumstances with only three people. Not having a team my senior was tough, but we did push through it and really came together", said Redburn. Although the team had to face much adversity throughout the season, they came to show that big things really do come in small packages.

"WE'LL KEEP ON FIGHTING 'TIL THE END" Varsity Hockey

Kennedy Kaufmann '15

As the weather changes from falling leaves to falling flakes, most people look forward to the holidays, the New Year and, of course, snow. However, for some, getting back onto the ice for another hockey season is what they wait for. As Freeland, Nouvel, and Valley Lutheran unite as one team, they dominate the hockey rink from start to finish.

On November 27, the Griffins began the season with an 8-0 win over Flushing which was the season start they were looking for. Nearly a month later they faced the Bay City Wolves. "Even though we did end up losing 5-2, it was a great game," said Senior Connor Vondette. "It really brought us together as a team and our team worked great as a whole."

As the season continued, the boys faced a longtime rival the Tri-Valley Titans (Swan Valley, Hemlock and Sanford). All three times FNV and the Titans went head-to-head, FNV came out with the win. On January 27, the Titans and FNV played at the Saginaw Dow Event Center. Early on the team put a few pucks in the goal and the momentum grew from there. The final score was 6-1, with FNV dominating the ice.

"My favorite(s) game by far was when we played the Tri-Valley Titans, it's pretty much Swan Valley, and who doesn't love beating Swan Valley" said Junior Blake Desander.

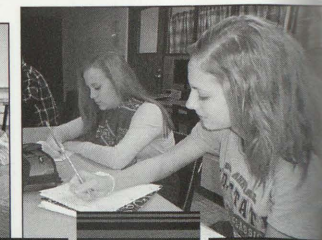

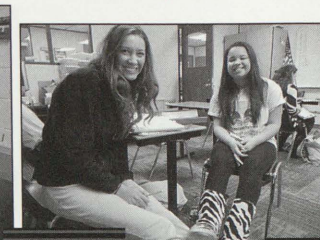

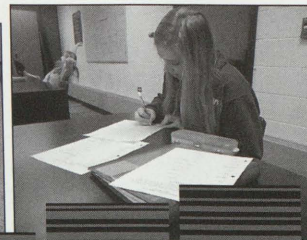

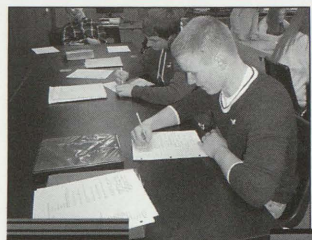

The second annual Heritage Hawks vs. FNV Griffins Blue-Out hockey game took place on February 15. The team raised money by selling T-shirts and pucks to chuck at half time, to finally raise thousands of dollars. All of the money raised was sent to a local nonprofit, Ambassadors for Opportunity to raise money for Autism Awareness.

"The Heritage game will forever be my favorite game. We were raising money for a great cause while playing a rival team while we're doing that" said Senior Austin Popour. Even though Heritage came out with the win, raising money for Autism Awareness is what made the game worthwhile.

The Griffin's overall record for the season was 15-9. All of the four seniors picked this season as their favorite of their entire high school careers. Juniors Blake Desander, Jarett Riffel and Dominic Stafford are determined to make next season their best.

"We have a really hardworking team and I think it shows when we play."

"Working for the Weekend"

Varsity Bowling

Marisa Kain '14

Winter; a time for sledding, snow days, and most importantly, bowling. With the first conference match on January 11, the teams traveled to Crooked Creek for the season opener against Hemlock and Valley Lutheran. Both teams came through victorious against rival Hemlock; boys with a score of 23-7 and girls by three pins.

"My favorite memory of this season was defeating Hemlock because it was the first time we beat them as a team," said Junior Jalyn Prout. "It was a great accomplishment. I could tell that the seniors on the team were very pleased with how they did. It was a great moment to experience with them."

The following weekend, bowlers traveled to their home lanes to take on Swan Valley and Carrollton. The boys split wins, taking a loss against Swan Valley, but finishing strong with a 21-9 win over Carrollton. The girls gave it their all, but couldn't pull through for the win.

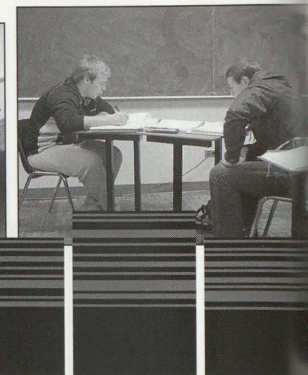

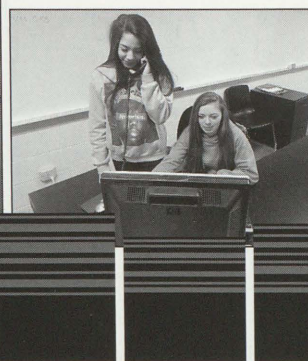

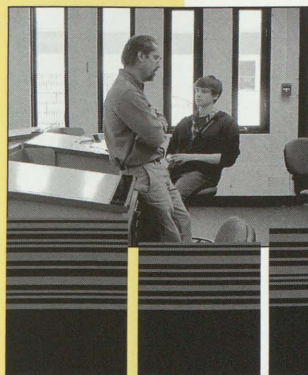

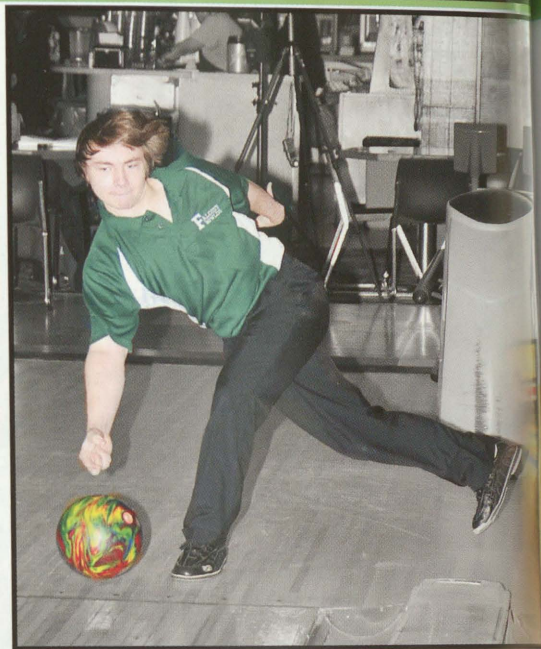

With the first half of the season completed, the teams spent the next two weekends at LeFevre's. On January 25, the girls put two more W's in the record books against Hemlock and St. Charles. The boys didn't fare as well, leaving behind two losses. On February 1, both teams split wins. Boys lost 19-11 against St. Charles, but came back strong with a 26.5-3.5 win over Carrollton. The ladies started strong with another win over St. Charles, 19.5-11.5, but couldn't answer back with another losing to Carrollton 20.5-9.5.

As the season came to an end, the teams met for a final time at Crooked Creek for the last conference match. The bowlers faced off against Swan Valley and Valley Lutheran. The girls worked hard in the first match, but could not pull a win against Swan Valley. The girls went into the second match against the Chargers with high hopes and spirits, but came up four pins short. On the opposite end of the alley, the boys came ready to bowl, taking their last two wins for the season. "The team did very well," said Freshman Kyle Eaton. "I personally got a high score and we crushed both Valleys."

With conference matches behind them, the teams traveled out to Candlelite Lanes in Bridgeport on February 14 to compete in the TVC tournament. The Lady Falcons started first, and finished off the day in 11th place, with a 2252 pin total. The boys were next, taking 6th overall with a pin total of 2750. Seniors Kayla Lagalo, James McLaughlin, and Adam Robishaw were awarded 1st team all-conference. Senior Marisa Kain and Freshman Ben Gibson were awarded for 2nd team, and Sophomore Robin McNally received recognition for honorable mention.

For the Regional Tournament, both teams traveled to Clarkston on Friday February 21. The girls finished off the day in 8th place while boys took 2nd place qualifying for states the following weekend. The following day, the top six bowlers from both teams competed to qualify for the individual state competition. After a long morning, Lagalo came through, placing 10th overall, qualifying for states her second year in a row. "My heart dropped and I lost feeling in my legs," said Lagalo. "I was really happy, but I also felt bad that my fellow teammate was not making it with me."

Traveling to Jackson for the State Finals on Friday February 28, the boys competed for the state title. After 8 baker games and 2 petersons, the boys didn't make the cut, finishing their season. On Saturday, Lagalo competed in the individual tournament. Lagalo finished the day in 16th in the state. "I knew Kayla could do it, but I believe she surprised herself more than anything," said Coach Robishaw. "I'm proud to say that I coached her." With the season officially over, players and coaches switch gears to spring and look forward to next year's season.

Unlike most sport seasons, poms is year round. If the girls are not at practices or performances, they are still thinking about poms or preparing for something pom related. This year, the team had a great season using all of their strengths to have the best season possible!

Each new season begins at Mid American Pompon Summer Camp. During each of the three full days a new routine and kickline is taught. Every night, the girls performed these routines and ultimately received first place in both speed learning and kickline. They were the only team to perform a perfect day three kickline. With six first places, the team performed their original routine and earned the title of Grand Champions!

As football season soon came, the team performed every Friday night. The team also performed at the Clash for a Cure game and with the middle school pom team at Homecoming. In addition, they also held the Little Girls Clinic, where they taught and performed routines to future pommers. Teamwork is essential with all the girls must do. "Not only are these girls stellar performers, but they come together and work as a team to accomplish their goals," said Head Coach Jenny Kuester.

The team transitioned into basketball season by preparing a new routine for Regionals and spending hours to create a routine that best suits them. At regionals, the girls performed to the best of their abilities, receiving 75 percent of the total points possible and qualifying for states. The team knew that preparing for states would take time and dedication. "Poms is different because it becomes a part of your life, it is a lifestyle," said Junior Captain Jordan Pollard.

States is the competition the team prepares for all year. The three minute performance is all they have to impress the judges. "My favorite part is states season because it's when we are all working our hardest and we really come together as team," said Sophomore Bree Dittenber. At states, the team gave an exceptional performance and earned a 3rd place finish with a score of 464.5. Overall, the girls had a great season and made memories that will never be forgotten.

Varsity Cheerleading

Emily Baase '15

This season was one to remember for the Freeland Varsity Cheerleaders. Coming from a fifth place finish at districts last year, the team was out for redemption. Composed of eighteen athletes only three new girls the squad was ready to fight to the top.

Starting with a solid first place finish at the Merrill Invitational, the Lady Falcons had no idea what the rest of the season was going to hold. "My favorite meet was the Merrill Meet, we grew so much closer that meet and I absolutely loved it," said Junior Captain Allison Riffel. "That was the day we set our team goal."

The following week at the Midland High Invitational they outscored their main competitor, Ovid Else. They earned first place, broke all personal records and achieved the title of grand champion with a score of 705.14.

The Lady Falcons then went to the Mount Pleasant Invitational. With only one fall in Round 3, they still set a personal best in Round 1. The team ended up with the victory and a score of 702.66. "I believe that our biggest accomplishment of the season was getting noticed, coming from a small town we had a lot of obstacles to get through," said Sophomore Alexandra Crane.

With three wins under their belt, the girls were ready for the Swan Valley TVC meet ahead. They concluded the competition with a total score of 727.9, earning second place and a Round 3 score of 314.6.

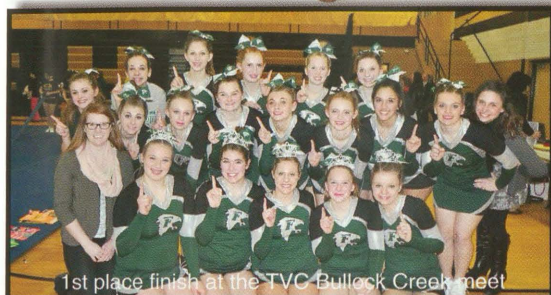

The next meet was held at Brighton. They placed third with a score of 688.72. "It was so cool competing against some of the best cheer teams in the state," said Freshmen Paige Budnick, "It was also pretty exciting seeing how we contended with them. So really placing third wasn't that bad at all."

Later in the season, they placed second at the Ovid-Elsie TVC meet, fourth at the Birch Run All-TVC meet, and first at the Fenton Invitational. At the last TVC meet of the year, the team performed well. With a Round 1 score of 232.5, a Round 2 total of 210.96 and Round 3 total of 315.7. The girls scored a total of 759.16, and earned the best Round 3 score in the state. "My favorite meet was the Bullock Creek TVC Meet, because we really came together as a team and broke every single personal record in every round. That meet we also got the highest Round 3 score in the state in our division, which is a huge deal," said Senior Captain Melissa Kleinfield.

As the regular season came to a close, post-season began. With districts at Alma High School gave the girls an advantage of being in their own territory. After three rounds, they placed third and qualified for the regional competition. "We were all so excited to go to Regionals because it brought us one step closer to our goal," said Junior Madison Franek.

The regional competition was held at Rockford High School on February 22nd. Starting off with a Round 1 score of 218.9, a round 2 score tallied at 196.68 and a Round 3 score of 305.3. At the conclusion of the meet, the team fell four points short of qualifying for the state competition with a total of 720.88. "Coming this close to States is something I could never imagine and although we didn't reach our goal, I wouldn't have wanted to end my season any other way," said Senior Bailey Chapman.

As the season closed, this team gave it their all. Despite losing five seniors for the next season, the team has high hopes future success. "On this team we all have so much love for what we do and so much love for each other that this team will never be the same after this season," said Senior Jenna Neunfeldt. "I really can't imagine ending my high school cheer career with any other team." This team is one to remember and will come back with vengeance in the next season.

"Let it Snow, Let it Snow, Let it Snow"

Melanie Padgett '15

From sledding to snowmobiling, skiing to snowboarding; the winter of 2014 has had plenty of snow for any and all activities possible. There has been a solid two feet of snow that has stayed on the ground since January. In Michigan, snow days are days students look forward to. This year has totaled a staggering six snow days "This year has been way too cold and there has been way too much snow," said Sophomore Sarah Kretz "It helps having a snow day and taking a break for a little while."

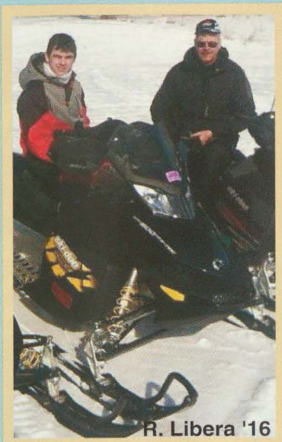

Even if the winter may seem too long or too cold, there is a lot of time to make winter memories. Having a "true Michigan winter" allows many to partake in winter sports that are popular. Outside of the average snow sports, students such as Junior Morgan Ketola participate in a unique event. "This winter has been so memorable because I participated in the High School Snow Sculpting competition in the Zehnder's Snow Fest," said Ketola.

Having four unique seasons, makes Michigan a one-of-a kind state. From the color changing leaves, the frigid winters, the rainy spring, and the hot summer; winter has been raising attention from many students. "I like looking outside and seeing how nice everything looks after it had just snowed," said Junior Caleigh Stowe. The winter of 2014 for most, will be remembered as one filled with a lot of snow, fun times outside with friends, and, of course, snow days.

"Dance Like There's No Tomorrow"

Noblemens 2014

Tori Argyle '15

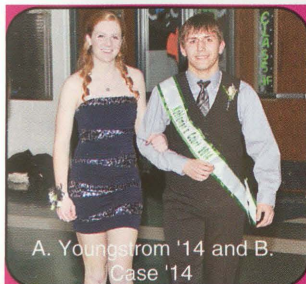

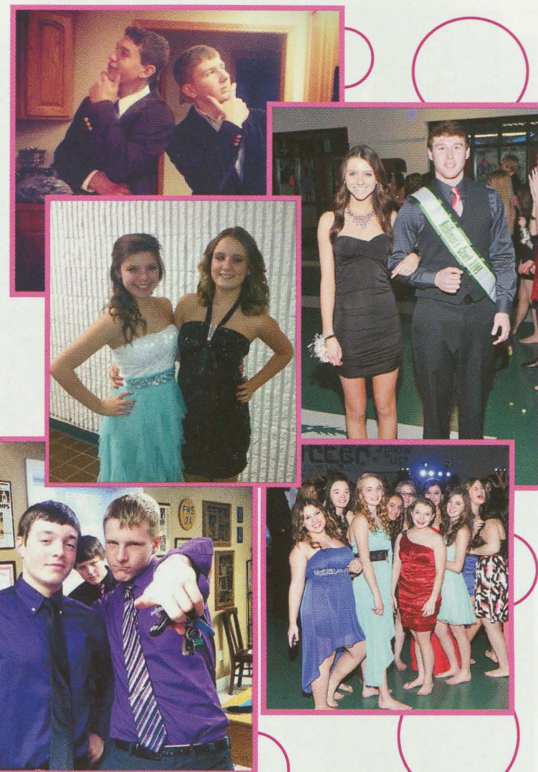

This year's Noblemens came up fast and ended with a bang. The theme was social media so each chose their own social media. The seniors chose Instagram, juniors had Twitter, sophomores selected Vine, and the freshmen chose Snapchat. In the week before the dance, the student councils decorated the cafeteria to reflect the theme. The seniors taped up pictures of Instagram profiles, while Juniors taped up birds with each junior's Twitter profile name. The sophomores hung up a long vine along the ceiling and the freshman decorated their wall with mirrors and action words that are on Snapchat.

The senior court members consisted of Collin Kubiak, Bailey Case, Ryan Richter, Drew Mojica, and Jeremy Flood. The night before the dance at half-time of the Boys' Varsity Basketball game, each court member was called out and asked to hold their phone in anticipation of receiving a phone call that nominated the winner. As a phone began to ring all eyes were on Flood. "I was so happy that Jeremy won, and excited to see him introduced with the crown!" said senior Kaitie Morrissey.

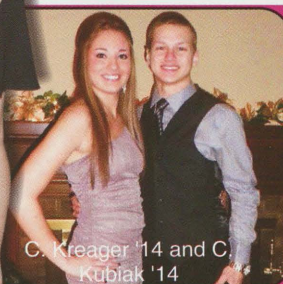

As a new king was crowned, students grew in anticipation to dance the night away. Many had pictures taken before then stopped for dinner before dancing the night away. Many enjoyed dinner with friends at some of the best restaurants in the area.

When the students arrived ready to dance, they entered the cafeteria through a hallway that was filled with social media decorations. After paying tickets, they dropped off their coats and headed for the dance floor. "My favorite song was Turn Down for What," said junior Emily Baase. Students were all really excited to see the court introductions as well.

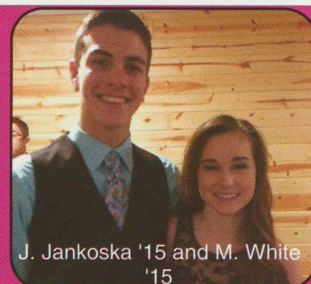

At 11:45PM, students piled out of the school ready to get some sleep. Before going to bed, students went on their social media accounts and Tweeted, Snapchatted, and Instagrammed the memories of the night for all to see and sent out all the moments that will forever be in the social network.

This season, the Junior Varsity girls' basketball team had a successful season. They have overcome many challenges and faced the adversity with their heads held high. The team was bound and determined to be successful and proved to everyone that they have the skills to dominate the court.

"Our team improved throughout the season in many ways. We definitely learned how to work as a team rather than ten individual players. We improved on defense and running plays too," said Sophomore Kara Dobulis.

The most challenging game was against Nouvel on February 12. The team stepped up their game to rise to the challenge. They ended up winning by 4 points with a close score of 38-34. The girls later traveled to Chesaning on January 20. The final score was 54-27, Freeland with the win. They had another close game against Millington on January 23. While the opposing team is known for their fast paced game, they came out with a victory with a score of 39-32.

By the end of the season, the team went undefeated with a 20-0 record. "My team did amazing this season. We are undefeated and I am so proud of my team," said Sophomore Kristen King.

This team has worked hard to accomplish their undefeated record. Their skills and determination were the reason for the overall success on the court. These girls were able to show everyone their capabilities.

They made sure to not let any team stop them from their success.

Girls Freshman Basketball

"I KNOW I GOT SKILLZ"

Caitlin King '15

The freshmen girls have come a long way from the start of this season. They have learned to come together by communicating, using teamwork, and overcoming challenges. Overall they had more losses than wins. They will have to work hard and play hard.

In order to try to increase their wins, they had to practice hard to work on and touch up their skills on the court. "We learned to work better as a team," said Freshman Jessica McConnell. Some of these include having quicker feet on defense and ball movement. As they improved these they began to have more success on the court. Their first win was against Ovid Elsie on January 13. "That was our first win of the season and I was so proud of my team," said freshman Caitlin Hohn. After this game, they faced Shepherd. They had a hard time getting shots and ended the game with a score of 5-15, falling short of victory. They later redeemed themselves against Millington on January 23. This was their biggest win overall during the season with a final score of 36-29. Through this tough season they ended up with a 2-7 record.

They had a tough hard-working season. Along with that they overcame their obstacles and challenges. Hard work pays off and these girls will testify to that. These girls will continue to improve throughout their high school basketball career.

It is quite a feat to have an undefeated season, and that's just what the Freshman Boys Basketball team did. They dominated everyone in the conference not allowing any team to even get close to them in scores. The boys started their first high school season strong and proved they are a force to be reckoned with. They finished the season with an impressive record of 16-0.

The start of the season was a strong with a win against Carrollton tallying a score of 64-36. "The boys have certainly worked hard in and out of practice," said Coach Jason Brzezinski. The team continued to beat all of their competition by 15 or more points including their biggest rival, Swan Valley, with a score of 50-36. Consistently dominating the competition kept the boys' confidence level high and allowed them to achieve what is hard for any team to do. "We accomplished an undefeated season and have worked hard for it," said Freshman Connor Muscott.

This season team was quite memorable. "Overall, I think that this season went great and we worked wonderful as a team," said Freshman Jonathon Lelo. Now that it is over, the boys are looking forward to the future success that they will continue to work for. They will spend time in the off-season improving their skills and will come back even stronger next year.

Despite a rocky start, the Junior Varsity Boys Basketball team went on an impressive winning streak and had another successful season. They had a positive mind set and worked hard. They ended their season with a record of 14-5.

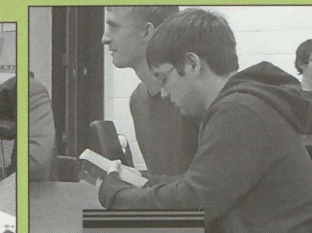

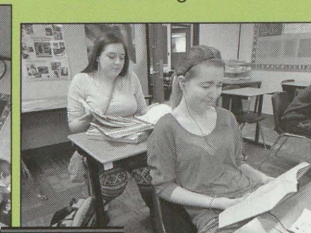

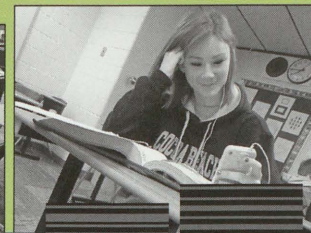

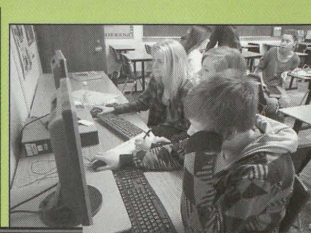

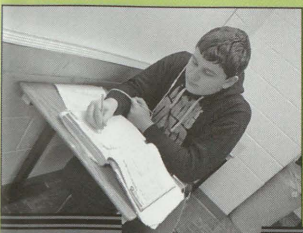

The boys worked hard in practice to fix minor mistakes early on in the season to continually improve their season record. Alma was one of the toughest games of the season. The Falcons ended up with a close 60-55 win against the Alma panthers. "My favorite part of the season was beating Alma for the first time ever," said Sophomore Ben Whitting. It was a memorable win for the boys. "We knew Alma was going to be tough," said Coach Jason Brzezinski. "We knew we were going to play better because we have been working hard."

Throughout the season, the team faced tough competition and the fought hard until the end. Beating Ovid Elsie was also a notable win for the boys. The boys came out on top to win the game with a score of 52-43. They were a big rival for Freeland, but the boys won both at home and away adding to their season success.

Every ounce of dedication that the boys had for the game showed on the court. "Overall, I think our season went absolutely amazing. It was really fun and we won," said Sophomore Caleb Crawford. The blood and sweat that went into this season will surely motivate the boys as they continue on in their basketball careers.

This was a year of firsts for Freeland High School, including the first time Freeland ever had a Junior Varsity Cheerleading team. Made up of dedicated, hard-working cheerleaders, this team was determined to do well. From the start, the team put up good scores when they took first in their first competition, putting up a total score of 596.30 in the Merrill Invitational Meet. "We thought we were doing awful, but we ended up getting first. It was so exciting," said Freshman Taylor Hinkley.

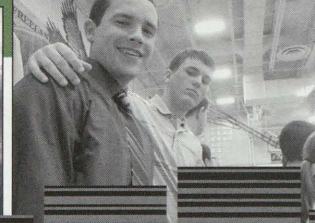

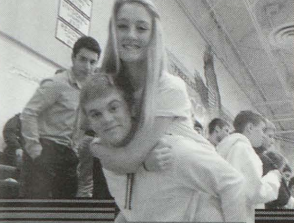

The team continued to work hard and put up good scores despite losing players to injury. The team placed consistently in the top two with main rival, Ovid-Elsie. However, the team never expected to do so well as a first year team.

Heading to the Midland High Invitational, the girls put up a total score of 592.22, earning first place. With hard work and dedication to the sport, the girls managed to score extremely well even at times beating out the scores of other varsity teams in the conference. "These girls worked hard and improved a lot. They got tighter and louder throughout the season, and I'm really happy with how much they've improved," said Coach Emily Martin.

The JV cheer team has proved their skills, and will continue to work hard and improve their scores for each round. This team has much promise for the future, and the sky is the limit now. One thing is for sure; Freeland has a large amount of promising cheerleaders and will likely be a top competitor in meets for years to come.

Scholarship, leadership, character, and service are four qualities that each member of the National Honors Society possesses. These necessary values are frequently demonstrated by their dedication to education, outstanding leadership in and out of school, and volunteering in the community to give back. "It doesn't get any better as a teacher than to have an opportunity to work with the best, brightest, and most energetic students we have to offer in a positive way through community service and leadership opportunities," said club supervisor Matthew Forsberg.

Members participate in various volunteer opportunities such as Winter and Spring Special Olympics, Adopt-A-Family, the St. Patrick's Day Race, and Habitat for Humanity. Each event is unique and offers the members chances to grow as leaders and give back to those who need it. "I love that I have so many opportunities to better the community," said Secretary Melissa Kleinfeld. "Seeing the faces of the people I've helped really makes all the work we do worthwhile."

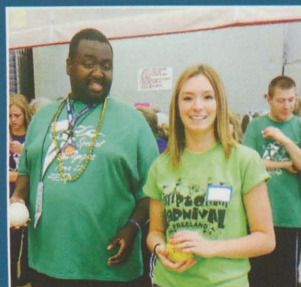

Getting into the Donald R. Fox Chapter of the National Honors Society is no easy task. Members must have and maintain a 3.5 GPA or higher, submit a letter of recommendation, and complete a lengthy application. With the 52 members, the group has the potential to change the school and community for the better. Each and every member has the chance to positively impact on the community. This year's senior officers include President Keegan Reimus, Vice President Melissa Smith, and Secretary Melissa Kleinfeld.

"NHS is a great organization and every member should be proud to be included in such an awesome group," said Smith.

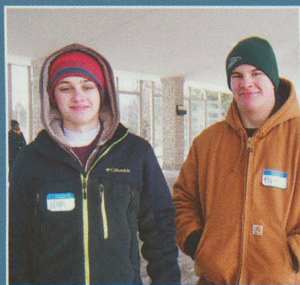

With the requirement of thirty service hours for first year members and fifty service hours for second year members, these students will have plenty of opportunities to create a better community for everyone in Freeland.

This year, the members of Freeland's Students Leading Students started the school year roaring and ready to go. The group got an early start by attending the annual summer leadership camp. There, they met with other schools that had similar goals and shared ideas on how to improve their school's environment. The universal goal of SLS students is to create a safer, and more welcoming school that all students enjoy going to. "I believe in, and enjoy getting to directly play a role in keeping our students and community safe," said Secretary Becky Jiggins.

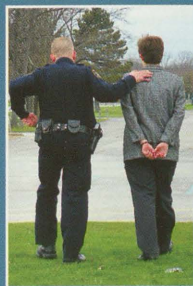

Keeping school safety is extremely important, and this club holds many events to encourage that safety. The club's events include 'Make a Difference Day', 'Spring Into Service', the canned food drive, and the well-known pre-prom mock car crash. They also hold smaller events where guest speakers come and speak to students to promote important safety tips. "Our hope through these events is to bring awareness to issues that affect student health, safety, and well-being through fun and informative events and campaigns," said advisor Tamara Klida.

Klida and the students have done their part making the school safer in an entertaining way. This year's Executive Council happens to be run solely by ambitious juniors including President Doug Piper, Vice President Rachel Champagne, Treasurer Tori Argyle, and Secretary Becky Jiggins.

"SLS is a great group of kids who work together to make students make the right decisions all while creating our own friendships," said Argyle.

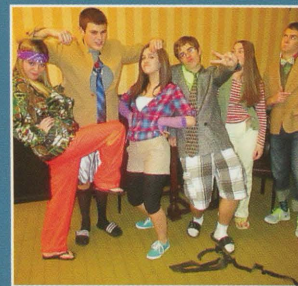

With SLS working hard to make FHS the best school, the students can be assured a safe and fun environment for years to come. This highly ambitious group plans to continue to make safety fun for all. Not only have they begun to achieve their goal; they are on the right path towards keeping FHS safe for everyone in attendance.

It takes a dedicated group of students to come together and create something that is not only read by their peers, but the entire community. Every two weeks, the school waits for the beloved newspaper, The Talon to come out. The Talon is considered to be one of the best high school papers in the area and it is because of the dedicated writers on staff. The members work together to create a quality newspaper that is entertaining, relatable, and informative. The Talon is advised by Kyla Krygier, Editor-in-Chief Seniors Jeremy Flood and Macey Miller, and Assistant Editor-in-Chief, Juniors Becky Bell and Taylor Herring.

Writing in the News is offered as an elective class, however, students must be selected and exhibit exceptional writing skills. Not only do staff members have good writing skills, but they also have time management, dedication to excellence, and academic success.

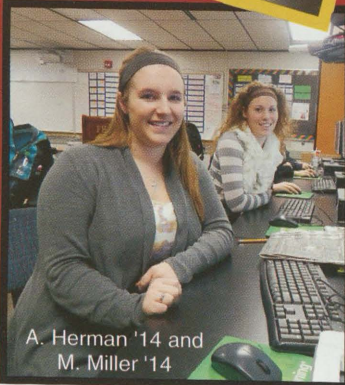

"You have to do your thing and get your stuff done because the whole class is dependent on each other for the paper," said Senior writer Cavin Compton. Many may overlook the amount of hard work that goes into the Talon. Students typically put in about seven hours a week.

"[Talon] really is like a job in itself that just teaches you so much but is also really enjoyable," said Sophomore Lexy Weersma. Students work according to specific and strict deadlines that must be met in order to publish and in students' hands on time.

A great aspect of the class is that it helps prepare students for the real world. The class teaches the importance of time management, writing skills, and communication skills. Staff members are required to interview multiple sources, draft articles according to a specific format, peer edit, and make the necessary changes after the editing process.

This is not just a class; this is a family. "Everyone values each other, everyone is important," said Senior writer Mackenzie Harrison. Students work together the entire year to create a one of a kind paper. Anyone that walks into the class can see the classroom is really a modern newsroom. The Talon is one of the classes that makes the high school so unique.

Every school has that extraordinary group of students willing to take the lead. Student Council is a group of students who not only take the lead, but were individually chosen by their peers.

Part of the council's responsibility is to promote/organize a variety of fundraisers. Council Advisor Jennifer Peruski and Executive President Senior Melissa Smith play a large role in organizing these events. Money that is raised goes towards prom, Oscar night, and graduation. Traditionally, each council does a t-shirt fundraiser so students can show spirit all year round. T-shirt sales are profitable, but the councils also sell donuts and apple cider, gift baskets, and more. These fundraisers are important to each council because it sets up the budget for prom and senior events that each class must pay for. Over the years, the money adds up and each class is able to put on a fantastic prom and graduation.

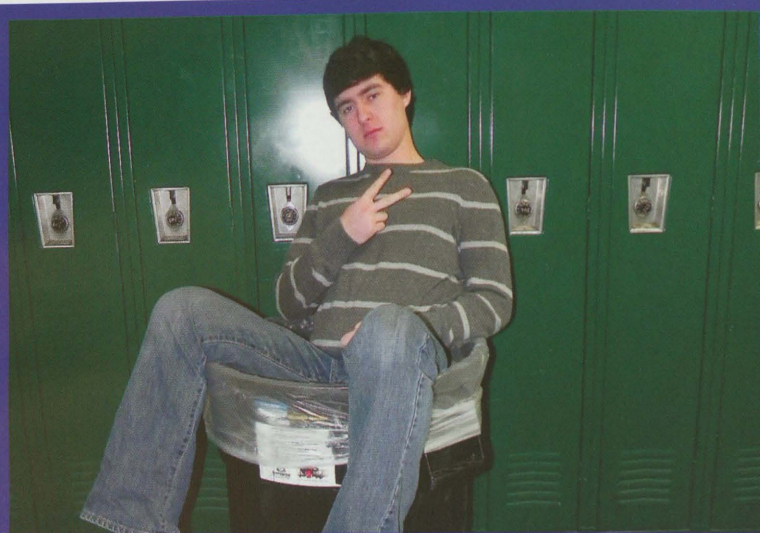

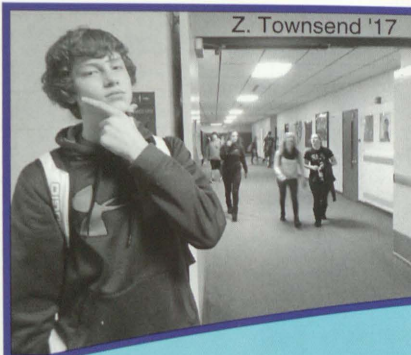

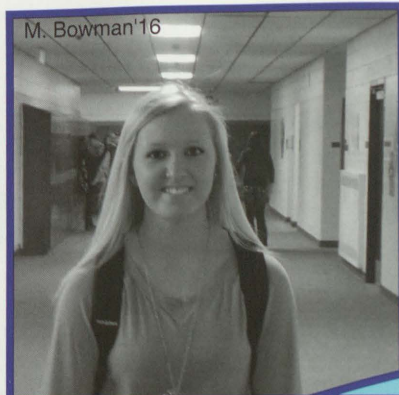

While fundraising for school is important, the council works to give back to the community. One event the council looks forward to is Exchange Day. At Exchange Day they discuss fundraising ideas, council organization, and how to properly manage the budget. This year, the students traveled to Garber High School where they interacted with the Garber Student Council.

"Exchange Day is awesome because you get to see how the other council does things compared to ours" said Senior member Zack Reimus. In addition to Exchange Day, the council also volunteers at Toys for Tots, where members gather donated gifts for families in need, every year. Toys for Tots is always a successful trip where students step up and give back.

Freeland's Student Council is unlike any other organization. The students work hard all year round to make the year a successful one for students and community members. This year's council certainly has stepped up to the plate, and raised the bar for future councils.

For the third year in a row, the Freeland Girls Soccer teams held their well-known annual event: their Kick'n To Help Kids fundraiser game. This event once again raised money to help aid victims of child abuse and neglect. Not only did they succeed in helping raise money, but they did it in a fun way while doing what they. With the both teams dedicated to such a worthy cause, they were bound to find success once again.

This year, the set up and organization of the event was shared by a team of dedicated players including Senior Kelsey Ropp, Juniors Caleigh Stowe and Cailin King, and Sophomore Danica Miller. These four spent countless hours preparing for this big event, from finding sponsors, to selling t-shirts. The work is tedious, but the team demonstrated devotion towards making improvements in their own community through this note worthy cause.

"This event is something I absolutely love being a part of and being able to see everyone so happy and supportive towards this amazing cause makes it all truly worthwhile," said Ropp.

The girls' teams successfully rose $2,003 towards the cause. The money went to the CAN Council of Saginaw, helping to aid countless child abuse victims. The teams were able to present President of the CAN Council, Suzanne Greenberg, the check that made it possible to help out so many victims. Not only did they raise a large amount of money, but both teams also brought home a win against Valley Lutheran with JV winning 2-0 and Varsity winning 6-0.

Spring brings many opportunities and with it a promise for warm weather and longer days. For Freeland, it means the start of girls soccer season. This year, the girls team overcame challenges and managed to have a season worthy of the record books.

The girls started their season off right by winning the first ten games under new coach Lauren Deroo. A new coach means a new way of playing the game. The girls worked hard and played harder. A large part of the team's success was due to the goalies, Junior Hannah Foy and Senior Katie Morrissey. What happens on the field isn't just because of long practices and hard drills; it's about the teamwork the girls have on the field that makes them unstoppable. "We are really good teams and we have a lot of potential to be even better," said Freshman Jessie Piper.

With only one loss, the girls persisted to maintain dominance and ended up defeating the next six teams. "My favorite game was our home game against Nouvel," said Junior Taryn Taugher. "It got really violent and heated, it was like a rugby game."

As the season came to a close and Districts around the corner, the girls felt the pressure of continuing their winning streak. The girls approached Districts ready to win, and that's exactly what happened. "We've had a great season because we all get along together so well and we are successful on the field. I'm looking forward to our District run," said Junior Becky Bell. In the all three games, they merced the first two teams and defeated the last team with a score on 5-0. The girls won the title of District Champs and were able to advance on to Regionals.

With a shot for States on the line, the girls played with all their hearts. "It was amazing to see all of our hard work pay off. Having the regional title to show for all of work we have been putting in is amazing! No one really understands how hard we have been pushing ourselves to get into the final four this year but we are and we made it," said Junior Megan Schmidt. As the game came to a close and with a victory in sight, the girls could almost grasp the Regional champ's title. With one goal already in from Sophomore Danica Miller and the winning goal from Junior Taryn Taugher the girls got the chance to advance to State semi-finals.

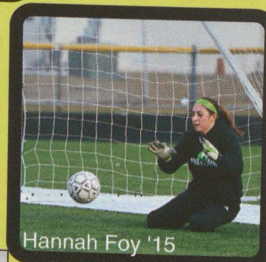

When the day came for the state semi-finals, excitement filled the air as staff and students lined the halls to cheer on the girls as they left for the game. The girls played a good game keeping the score at 0-0 until half-time. However, Detroit Country Day was able to score three goals in the second half ending Freeland's season. The girls came a long way ending with a final record of 19-3. Next year, they are coming back with a vengeance to make it to state finals.

Starting off the season on the right swing, the Freeland boys were in it for the long run. Despite the loss in the first game against Birch Run, Seniors Charlie Ferens and Dustin Leslie both had amazing games. Ferens having 5 RBI's, and Leslie, having a 3 inning no hitter helped keep the score close. "Charlie was a huge part of the game for us," said Leslie. The next doubleheader Freeland hosted Gladwin, the first game they came out victorious with Senior Josh Schlak having 3 runs, and Leslie having a great pitching game. For game two, Junior Jared Shea took the mound. However, the batters struggled to follow the great pitching performance by the Falcons. Sophomore Ben Rybicki was sent up to the mound later in the game to keep it close but even with this move the Falcons still were unable to muster up enough runs to top off Gladwin as they fell 4-6 in the second game. The first sweep of the year occurred at Bridgeport. "We came out very strong, and we were playing some of the best baseball we have played all year," said Senior Ryan Dubuque.

With the next game being a loss against Sanford-Meridian, the boys were thirsty for a win. The next win came from Breckenridge when they split with the team on their own turf. Next doubleheader facing Ovid Elsie was a sweep and all players were in good spirits for the Dow Diamond game that followed. Although they lost to the Reese Rockets, the team played hard and had a great time. "It was an awesome experience, I'm just happy it didn't get rained out," said Sophomore Dalton Remius.

The next sweep came as they played Shepherd winning with scores of 16-0 and 16-1. Then falling to Alma, and splitting with Swan Valley and ended with a five game winning streak that lead the boys into a post season they would never forget. With Leslie throwing an amazing no hitter and Junior Matt Formsma having a great hitting game with 2 RBI's, the Falcon defeated Alma 7-2, and advanced to the District Final where they played Mount Pleasant. Ending their season, Freeland lost 6-1 in a heated battle with the Oilers. The team couldn't have asked for a better season. "This season was great, and I'm glad that I got to share it with all of the Seniors. They really helped make it a season to remember," said Formsma.

With April showers falling and May flowers popping, the softball team was ready for the 2014 season. The girls came to ready to play in the division opener against Ovid Elsie on April 24th, coming away with two wins. The next double header proved to be more of a challenge. The girls battled hard against Shepherd but could not secure any wins. "Both teams played hard but Shepherd just came ready to play," said Senior Ashley Youngstrom. "They got clutch hits and took advantage of our mistakes."

Traveling to Chesaning, the team put the past behind them to earn 15-3 and 8-5 victories in the double header. "We came out on fire in the first game and jumped on them early and built a big lead in the first game," said Coach Behmlander. "The second game was a back and forth battle but we were able to get out of a bases loaded jam in the 7th inning to win game 2." With the season in full swing, the girls kept the ball rolling at their home field hosting Alma Tuesday, May 6th. In game one, the girls went to work earning the 12-2 victory then came back in game two claiming a 19-5 victory.

On May 9th, the Lady Falcons hit the road to put up a fight against Bullock Creek but fell to the Lancers in both games 7-0 and 10-0. On Friday May 16th, the girls prepared for another battle with Swan Valley. In game one, the Falcons played hard but fell short in a 4-0 loss. Game two was another tough battle. The girls put the ball into play, but couldn't secure enough runs for victory, falling again to the Vikings 7-1. Back on the road May 20th, the girls traveled to Nouvel. Allowing just two runs in 14 innings, the girls came out on top with 7-1 and 9-1 victories.

To finish conference play, the team traveled to Hemlock to take on the Huskies. In game one, the Falcons walked away with 3-0, then came back in game two with a 13-3 victory. "I couldn't have asked for a better way to end conference play my senior year. Everyone was on their game, plus I had my first career no-hitter," said Senior Marisa Kain. "Everyone contributed to the wins and we all had fun in the process."

Traveling to Mt. Pleasant for Districts on May 31, the Falcons faced the Alma Panthers for their first game of the day. After five innings and a score of 17-1, the mercy rule took affect and the Falcons secured their spot in the championship game. After seven innings, with both teams battling hard, the Lady Falcons fell to the Vikings 4-0.

The Girls and Boys Varsity track team has, once again, had another victorious season. Many of these athletes have improved in their events and some now hold school records. These teams have a lot to be proud of and it goes to show hard work really does pay off.

The first two meets were indoor at Saginaw Valley State University and Central Michigan University. "So far my most memorable meet was the CMU meet," said Freshman Skylar Armstrong. "This was my most memorable meet because it gave a small taste of competition in the future." Both teams did well for the first large meet. They came home with a total of seven medals.

The next meet was the very first Freeland Invitational held on April 11 and included 8 teams. Next year, they plan to expand to 12 teams. "The first ever Freeland Invite was successful and felt good to be a part of a great tradition," said Junior Matt Denby. The boy's team earned first place and the girls placed second.

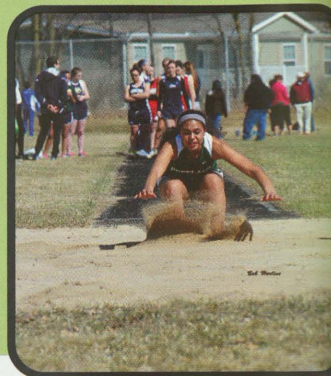

During the course of the season, the boys placed first in every meet but one. They also placed first at regionals which qualified them for MITCA team states. At MITCA team states they placed fourth overall. The athletes who qualified for states in their events were Senior Kyle Guster in the 4X1 relay, 4X2 relay, and the open 400, Denby in the 4X1 relay and the 4X2 relay, Senior Max Lange in the 4X1 relay and the 4X2 relay, Sophomore Nate Whitting in the 4X1 relay, Senior Brandon Morris in the 4X2 relay, Junior Alex Stowell in the open 1600, Junior Jake Jankoska for pole vault, and Senior Noah Seeburger for discus.

The girls also had a notable season. Even with a small team, they worked hard and came through to place third at regionals. Three girls advanced to states in their respective events; this included Junior Tina Miller for discus, Freshman Sydney Dennis for long jump, and Freshman Jenna Gregory running in the open 400.

Following a successful season, there were a number of school records broken. Both boys and girls pole vault records were set by Jankoska and Junior Morgan Ketola. Jankoska broke 13' 9" and Ketola broke 9' 6". Seeburger broke the record three times this year in discus with a throw of 149' 2". Another record broken was the 4X1 relay by the team consisting of Guster, Lange, Denby, and N. Whitting. They broke the school record by .31 seconds with a time of 44.47 seconds.

They ended their season at states at Houseman Field in Grand Rapids. Miller, Dennis, and Gregory did well, but did not place overall. Miller had a throw of 92' in discus. Dennis jumped a distance of 15' 8" in long jump. Gregory had a time of 1:01 in the open 400. The boys also did very well. Jankoska placed ninth in pole vault. Guster ended his career with a personal record of 50.81 seconds in the open 400. The 4X1 relay team consisting of Guster, Lange, Denby, and N. Whitting set the school record once again beating their previous time by .06 seconds with a time of 44.41 seconds.

These teams worked very hard for their impressive season records. "Despite not collecting any medals at the MHSAA D2 state finals, the team has a lot to be proud of. TVC central champs, Regional champs, and a fourth place at MITCA makes this team the most successful boys track team in school history. Congrats guys!" said Coach Jason Robinson. This year was a success for both teams. They have had a great season with many memories and more are yet to come.

Once the snow melts and the weather begins to warm up, the Boys' Varsity Golf team heads to the Twin Oaks course to begin the season. The season started slow because of the amount of snow and the lack of warm temperatures, however, once the snow was gone the boys were on the course ready to play.

The captains for the 2014 season included junior Michael Shatzley, sophomore Ben Balen, and sophomore Spencer Kloc. At the start, the boys set goals they wanted to meet during the season. "My goal this year was to consistently shoot low 40's upper 30's at practice," said Shatzley. During the first few practices the team had doubts on whether the team would even qualify for districts.

"At the beginning of the season, I expected the team to finish at third or fourth," said junior Michael Shatzley. To their surprise, they boys did just that. After tying for sixth place at the Tri-Valley Conference Central Jamboree at Twin Brooks with a 198, they finished fourth place overall with a 190 at the TVC Central Jamboree at Pine River.

The excitement began to increase as they neared districts where they would compete to find the qualifiers who would play. "Playing the day before and having qualifiers to see who is going to play in the tournament," said sophomore Ben Balen. When all the scores were added up, the boys beat Hemlock by three strokes placing fourth at the District finals. Balen finished sixth individually with an 85, followed by a 95 from Shatzley, an 89 from Kloc, a 106 from junior Nick Ezop and a 115 from freshman Johnathon Lelo.

After qualifying for regionals with their fourth place finish, the boys headed out to Glenbriar Golf Course in Perry, Michigan. The tournament started at 10 a.m. and the boys were ready to play. Though they fell short of qualifying for states they finished with a total of 390 it was still a very successful season. Balen finished the season with an 89, Shatzley with a 107, Kloc with a 94, Lelo with a 100, and Ezop with a 109.

The team finished their season completing their goals and working hard, and had an enjoyable season. With no seniors graduating they are already preparing for next year to dominate the

This year's school production was nothing less than odd. Eight high school students teamed up to present the well-known play, "The Odd Couple." While the play was originally written for an all-male cast the group put a twist on the story making all roles for females.

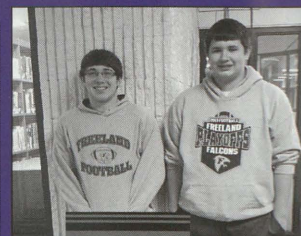

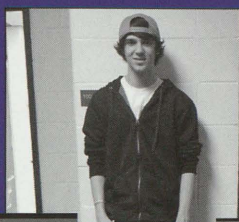

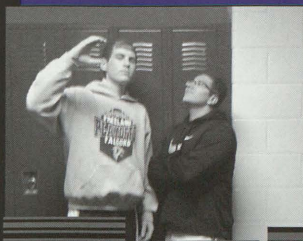

The female version of the odd couple premiered right here in Freeland's auditorium on May 16th and 17th. "The play went really well, we all worked really hard to put on a good show," said Sophomore Sarah Kusowski. Laughter filled the audience and the cast knew the play was a success.

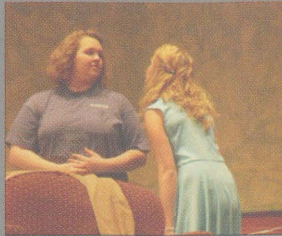

"My favorite part was performing, I love being up on the stage with the lights on me and being a different person," said Junior Sammi Dulong. Members of the cast spent months preparing for this night. The cast managed to learn and memorize their lines and perfected their character roles.

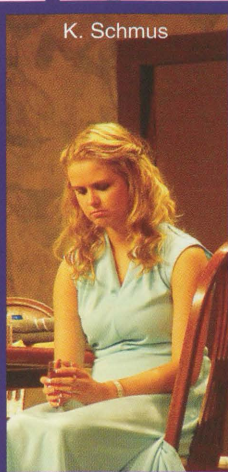

After both showings of the play, the cast celebrated together with dinner and a bonfire. "We are all really close," said Junior Kiersten Schmus. "It helped make the performances better because we are all get along well."

The night of the 17th was the end for this year's school production. The cast worked hard to put on a show that everyone enjoyed. The cast spend months working hard to create a one of a kind performance that audience members will remember for years. This year's production not only brought laughter to the audience, but new friendships in the cast.

This year's Junior class worked hard to make this Roaring 20's night one to remember for the seniors. There was a photo booth, a divine dinner, and fantastic music held at the Bay Valley Resort in Bay City on May 3rd. It was successfully a fun-filled night thanks to the Juniors.

"This year's prom was so much fun! It was definitely the right note to leave on," said Senior Erica Krause. With favorite memories ranging from the photo booth, and to the dance floor, this was a night that most will keep in their record books. This was especially true for the four lucky students who became prom royalty that night: Junior Allison Riffel and Jarret Riffel, and Seniors Janna Brown and Jeremy Flood. "It was honestly one of the coolest surprises I have ever gotten and I will not forget it," said Riffel.

Ending the night at the Sports Zone was the best part of the night for some. "The food was best part, having it served to you when you got there, and when you left was honestly the best," said Junior Nicole Lelo. With food, card games, and foam pits, this post prom was the perfect end to the night. Prom, starting out with an early morning and ending with a late night is always one of the best times of the year for Freeland High School.

Facing the coldest winter in over 20 years, this year put a standstill to all spring sports. Teams have been stuck in the gym throwing baseballs and having to make due with the smaller space. The season did not pick up until mid-April when the boys had their first game. This game would be a test to see if the team was able to prepare in the gym over the long winter. The Junior Varsity Boys lost 13-3 in their first two games of the season. After a few loses, the boys started practicing more efficiently and became more determined to turn the season around.

With the team improving steadily, the boys began a winning streak. In the middle of the season the Falcons were at a standstill after winning 8 games then losing to Alma 7-6. The team came a long way, from losing their first few double headers to coming out on top. The team reached their goal of being over .500 for the season. Hats off to these players who will continue to improve next until next season.

As spring finally approaches after a long and harsh winter, the smell of leather gloves fills the air. The Lady Falcons broke out their cleats and bats to start off the 2014 softball season. The ground was still covered in snow by the time their first game approached which forced the team to put a delay on playing time. Practicing inside the gym was the team's only option. After weeks of practicing indoors, they finally moved practices out on the field.

To start off their first few games the Lady Falcons put up a tough fight throughout the two games. In their first match the team lost to Birch Run 24-5. The second game the girls were just short of victory ending the game 6-5. The season began to pick up in early May when the team beat Chesaning 17-1 and then 21-2. The season was filled with several highlights and the girls continued to improve throughout. Towards the end of the season, the Lady Falcons showed no mercy and fought for every single win.

When weather begins to heat up, the Junior Varsity Girl's Soccer Team head out onto the fields with high expectations for the upcoming season. The season opener was held against the Midland Dow Chargers and unfortunately the girls fell 3-1. The team kept their heads held high and focused on their next game which they won 5-0 against Hemlock.

Practicing five days a week, the team was always prepared to take the field. "We practice everyday and work as a team," said freshman Jessica McConnell. On May 1st, the team merced Gladwin 12-0, with sophomore Lauren Quinnell leading the pack with 4 goals. "We always do our warm-ups then we do team drills wher they shoot on me," said freshman Morgan Buxman.

The team only lost 3 games while shutting out Valley Lutheran, 6-0, Garber, 9-0 and Bullock Creek, 9-0Creek, 9-0. The team had golas this season and they reached them all. "My biggest accomplishment was making the team and being a part of a high school team," said freshman Emilie Schultz. The team's last game was against Frankenmuth winning 8-0.

The girls had an outstanding year and dominated the field from the start of the season to the end. Though the team was young, they pulled through and played their hardest.

Gone Fishin'

Walleye Weekend

"We have our carwash during Walleye Weekend because there are so many people coming in and out of Freeland!" - Sophomore Madison O'leary

Nicole Lelo '15

It is known as a time of chaos and tradition in the town of Freeland. People travel to our small yet mighty community to enjoy events like garage sales, fishing, and the famous fish frys. Garage sales occur all week and many people scout the neighborhoods looking for the best deals around.

Freelanders know that because there are so many people and cars it is nearly impossible to drive anywhere. This is why walking from house to house is enjoyable for all. While some people are at garage sales, other are enjoying another important tradition of Walleye Weekend; the Walleye Parade. This is fun for friends and family and a great way for businesses to get noticed by know the community members.

The most important part of Walleye Weekend is, of course, fishing. This is why it is named Walleye Weekend. This festival is something that community members anticipate every year as spring rolls around. Walleye Weekend is what makes Freeland unique and will most likely be celebrated for years to come.

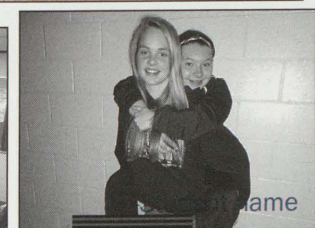

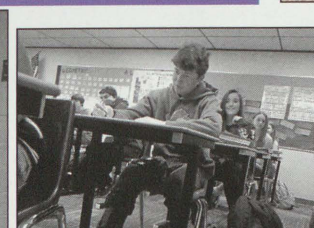

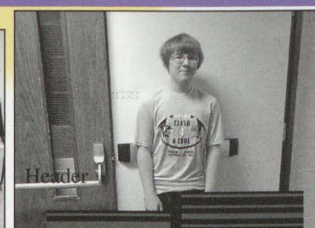

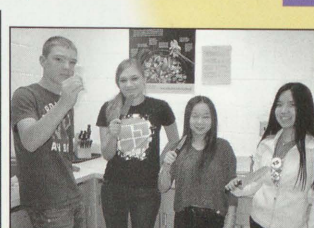

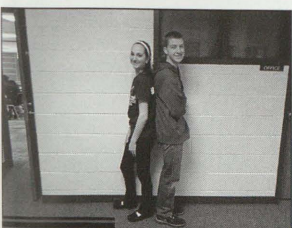

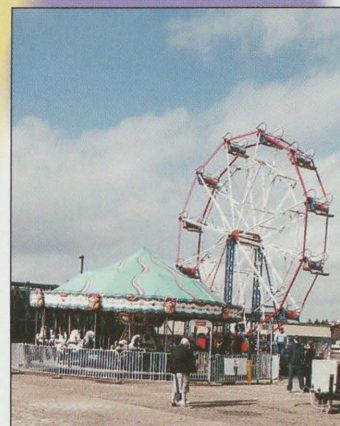

"The Pom carwash during Walleye Weekend is a great way to for our team to raise money and bond as a team." -Mary Ramos '16

"Fishing during Walleye Weeknd is relaxing because you get to spend time outside and enjoy nature." - Erica Krause '14

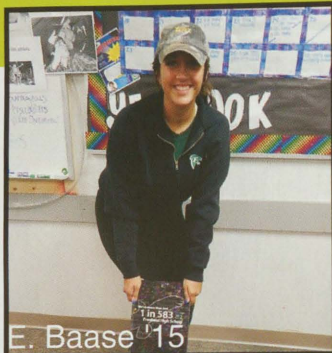

"My favorite part about Walleye Weekend is not having school and working the Fish Fry." - Brooke Anderson '14

Receiving the yearbook is highly anticipated event for students each fall. Students flip through pages looking back on the events throughout the year and the moments captured. This is all due to the effort of the yearbook staff.

This book is designed around music which is the unifying theme. The staff came up with this idea after weeks of brainstorming on what the best theme could be. Senior Kyle Guster designed the cover and Senior Kelsey Ropp created the candid bar as music bars. Each page incorporates the music theme in some way or another.

The process of creating this one of a kind book takes an entire school year. The staff spent several months formatting pages, planning, and working to create a one of a kind book.

In addition, the class participated in three fundraiser and sold ads in order to raise money to pay for the production costs. "The fundraiser that we do in yearbook are a nice change from working on pages all the time," said Junior Kennedy Kaufmann. Purchases included Butter Braids, Cheesecakes, and Little Caesar Kits. As a whole, the staff raised around $2,500 over the course of the year to cover the costs.

As hard as it is to believe, yearbook is not an ordinary class. Day in and day out, the staff members work on pages, take photos of students, and construct write-ups for all sports, groups, clubs, and events. "The hardest thing about yearbook is trying to fix a page after having a layout already picked out and tracking down people to get pictures for the candid bar," said Junior Cailin King.

Yearbook is a class that requires hard work and dedication, and each one of the staff members has demonstrated these qualities. When it comes time to pick up yearbooks, students will have a piece of Freeland history for the rest of their life.

INTRODUCING THE

"I feel the year was very positive. There were many opportunities to work with students to create an environment where academics was our priority, but we also had a lot of fun along the way. Now I am looking forward to the future as we continue to build on the momentum we started and strive to improve even more in the upcoming year. There is a lot of Falcon Pride in our school."

What advice would you give to
underclassmen?

The advice I would give to the underclassmen would be not to get caught up in the small stuff like rumors and high school drama. Try hard and have fun with your class because it goes by so quick!

What advice to you have for underclassmen?

My advice to the underclassmen would be to enjoy all of the fun that high school has to offer instead of worrying and stressing over everything else. Four years goes by pretty fast and you want to be able to look back and say that was a blast.

What advice would
underclassmen?

The best advice I can give to underclassmen is to know that all the friends you come into freshman year with will not be all of the friends you come out of your senior year with, and I mean that in a positive way. I hope all of you come out with a handful of true friends for the future!

Kennedy,
Congratulations! Time goes by so fast and I cannot believe my little girl is now a young lady.

We are so proud of you.
Remember to always believe in yourself and follow your heart. Know that we love you and will always be here for you!

Love,
Mom and Brion

JENNA

Jenna,
Words can't explain how proud we are of you. You're so much more than Dad and I could have ever dreamt for in a daughter. Your love and compassion for others will make you an amazing social worker. Now off to Ferris and a new exciting adventure.

We love you,
Mom, Dad and (Always Justin)

Kendon,
Seems like yesterday
you were in your Batman costume wanting to help others. Keep that spirit and God first so you will always be on the right path. We are so blessed to call you son
We love You
Dad and Mom

KENDON

Ashley,
You have grown into such a beautiful and caring young lady.
We are so proud of all that you have accomplished. The sky is the limit as far as what the future holds. Remember, we will always be here for you if you need us.

Love, Mom and Dad

ASHLEY YOUNGSTROM

Wherever you go, go with all your heart. There are no shortcuts in life to any place worth going.
Success is the ability to go from one failure to the next without loss of enthusiasm. Always forgive yourself and others, stay focused and work on things you want to improve in your life.
Always be the best you instead of a second rate version of someone else. Haley your dad and I are so proud of you go into this next phase of your life confidently with hope and courage.
Lastly, there isn't anyone who loves you more than your parents do. We wish you all the joy life has to offer, remember we are always just a phone call away no matter where you are in this world.

Love Mom and Dad

RYAN RICHTER

Wow- it seems like only yesterday sparty was giving you the "thumbs up"! We are very proud of your accomplishments so far. And know that there will be many more in your future!

MAX LODGE

Max,
We are so proud of you. it's been a rough road but you did it. Your future is now in your hands. I know your dad is watching over you.

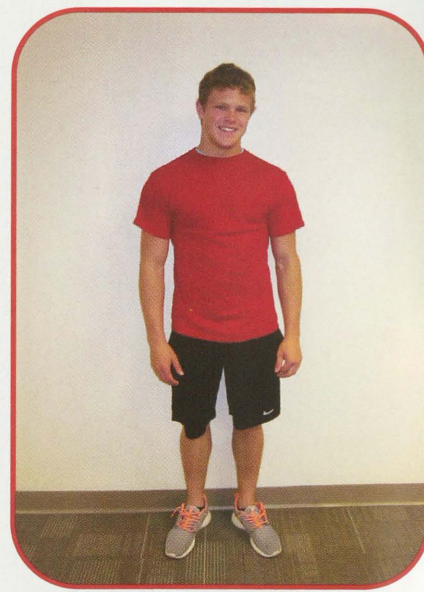

We love you
Mom, Brandi, and Stevi

KYLE GUSTER

We are so proud of who you have become during these past thirteen years of school. We hope you've had some great memories of high school. Best of luck in the future. Keep working hard towards what you want and you will get everything you desire.
